Arab League to open office in China

CAIRO (AP) — The Arab League's secretary-general left for China on Friday to begin a 10-day visit for meetings and to open a League office in Beijing. "This office is meant to strengthen Chinese-Arab relations," Esmat Abdul Meguid told reporters before he left. "China is considered a friend of the Arab World." Dr. Abdul Meguid is to brief China's prime minister, Li Peng, and foreign minister, Qian Qichen, on Middle East developments and the Arab-Israeli peace process. (Peres in China, page developments and the Arab-Israeli peace process. Were in Canal, page 10). The Beijing office will give the 21-member Arab League 2 presence in the capitals of all five permanent members of the U.N. Security Council. The others are the United States, Russia, France and Britain. At Cairo international airport, Dr. Abdul Meguid endorsed military intervention as the only effective option to stop the fighting in the former Yugoslav republic of Bosnia-Herzegovina. "The military solution is the best solution because the Serbs only understand the language of force. Also, in the past the Serbs have not responded to peaceful solutions," he said. Europe has been reluctant to back U.S. recommendations for an international coalition to intervene in the war pitting Christian Bosnian Serbs against Bosnian Muslims (See page 8).

Volume 17 Number 5313

AMMAN SATURDAY, MAY 22, 1993 THU EL QU'DEM 30, 1413

Price: Jordan 100 fils; Saudi Arabia 1.50 riyals; UAE 1.50 dirhams

Arab Land Bank to reopen in W. Bank

²⁰⁻²¹, ₁₉₉₃

al episode it in this - When to the feet books will be more built for last to be seen to be hall thoughting turning to a watched to the watched ent large the the into advant the

1 11 ventor

to the desiring or tour male it official for any $^{\mathrm{op}_{th}}$ or block.

 $w_{M^{1}M^{1}M^{1}M^{1}M^{1}}$

or to set in

Barran Asses

tion hand in

Grows

or Despite the all today a spec

: re ()

TOTAL PROPERTY.

Note that θ_{MB}

ं के जोता

i mi bong

And De

White with

் சென்ற ந

La din

Lace to mu debut

dien.

103 BJ Win

ang engage en e (manzi

11 KA

. Wender

La hai

. i talled E

 $= e^{-i (J - i R) \int_{\mathbb{R}^{2}} dt} R f_{\mathbf{q}}$

the fole

and the second

24 li be

1. No. 10 K

um i e ilel

n do

in un un

jar

la la

mls windr capes.

្សផ្លូវជាតិ

 $\mathbb{R}^{n-1}(A_{\mathcal{U}})$

 $\propto 6e^{2\sqrt{k^2}}$

H Com

Aug. Car

11.11

The little

1942 | Marie

nin:

and the respectively.

, i loc

31 Softebra

ins gives

State of · Year

at our product.

arat trates in

WŞ

TEL AVIV (AFP) — An Egyptian bank will reopen in the Israeli-occupied West Bank for the first time since the 1967 war, the Israeli central bank amounced Friday. A draft agreeent to this effect was signed in Cairo Thursday between the governors of the central banks of Egypt and Israel. The Arab Land Bank will open branches in Nablus and Bethlehem. It had branches in the West Bank until the Israeli occupation began in 1967.

Tunisian Jewish leade reburied in Israei

TEL AVIV (AP) - Thousands of Jews attended the reburial in Israel Friday of a long-dead religious leader whose bones were brought over from Tunis in a sign of growing openness between Tunisia and srael, the Itim news agency reported. Rabbi David Hacohen was reburied in cemetwhich is home to many former Tunisian Jews, Itim said. Hacohen, who died in 1938, was a highly-regarded religious judge of his time, it said. Hacohen's remains were transported via France and arrived in Israel Thursday, the news agency said. The reburial was negotiated by former Tunisian Jews with the full agreement of the Tunisian government, it said. Last year, Tunisia began allowing Israelis born in Tunisia or descended from Tunisian Jews to visit the country, in an arrangement based on a similar Moroccan scheme.

Kohi proposes university in Turkey

ISTANBUL (R) - Visiting German Chancellor Helmut Kohl Friday proposed setting up a Turkish-German university in Turkey to help improve sometimes troubled relations between Ankara and Bonn, Turkish business leaders said. They said Mr. Kohl, on a two-day visit to Turke. proposed the creation of the university at a breakfast meeting with Turkish and German businessmen in Istanbul. "Kohl said improvement in ties between the two nations could begin in the cultural field, and formation of a university would best serve this purpose," Uzeyir Garih, chairman of the Turkish construction company Alarko, told Reuters.

Algeria sentences exile to 20 years

ALGIES (R) — A special Algerian court has sentenced a radical Muslim fundamentalist leader said to be living in Germany to 20 years in jail for subversion, state adio reported Friday. Rabah Kabir, convicted by the special court in the eastern town of Constantine, is a leader of the outlawed Islamic Salvation Front (FIS). He fled Algeria last year and is considered the group's spokesman in Europe. The court sentenced 24 other defendants charged with subversion, weapons offences and undermining state security to jail terms ranging from three years to 20 years. Ten others were acquitted.

East Timor rebel chief sentenced to JAKARTA (AP) --- A court on Friday sentenced East Timor releader Jose Alexandre Gusmao to life in prison, the Dili district court said. A court officer refused to give further details of the verdict. Mr. Gusmao, who was captured last November had led the Revolutionary Front for an Independent East Timor. He went on trial in early February on charges on undermining the government and illegal possession of firearms. He was accused on ordering a pro-independence protest in November 1991 that turned bloody as Indonesian soldiers shot and killed dozens of demonstrators.

3 face June 23 tiral in Hani killing

JOHANNESBURG (AP) - A magistrate refused bail Friday for two white extremists charged with plotting to kill black leader Chris Hani and set a June 23 trial date. Clive Derby-Lewis, a leader of the pro-apartheid Conservative Party, and his wife Gaye face charges of murder, conspiracy to commit murder and illegal possession of arms and ammunition.

Rabin may call Israeli referendum on returning land-for-peace deal with Arabs in order to woo right-wing parties into his splintered coalition, his spokesman said Friday.

Gad Ben-Ari said Mr. Rabin's office had prepared a draft document for coalition talks with the right-wing Tsomet Party which included a referendum option.

"Rabin would like to broaden the basis of the government and have more bodies join the coalition because he believes it would strengthen the government. In a time of (Arab-Israeli) negotiations, it is important to have solid support in the Knesset (parliament)," Mr. Ben-Ari told Reu-

Israeli political commentators Mr. Ben-Ari said. called the overtures to Tsomet a ploy to pressure Mr. Rabin's as Palestinians were pressing for feuding coalition partners Meretz an Israeli commitment to the and Shas to settle their differ-

The ultra-religious Shas faction has threatened to quit the government over its dispute with the secular left-wing Meretz bloc.

Shas's departure would cut Mr. Rabin's majority in the 120-seat parliament to 61, a margin which he believes is too narrow to push through any peace settlement re-

sions this week but did not return

these were a threat to the aircraft," said Pentagon spokesman

The spokesman explained that

"on May 17th ... two navy F-14s...

reported observing searchlights coordinated with ground tracer fire from four separate locations" and then reported "seeing reddish-orange tracers followed by white airbursts." On May 19,- be added, two F-15Es also reported they were spotlighted and U.S. aircraft" but he acknowminister resigned and the presi-dent tried to take direct charge of Parliament refused to accept

Prime Minister Leonid Kuchma's resignation and left him in office, duce rapid privatisation and reduce a huge budget deficit.

Deputies also rejected President Leonid Kravchuk's bid to take personal charge of the government but they compromised by granting him broad powers to issue decrees on economic measures not governed by existing

The turmoil culminated months of confrontation over the direction of reforms between Mr.

Kuchma and parliament, elected in the Soviet era and dominated

"What happened here is likely to occur every day from now on,"

Mr. Kuchma told reporters after the session. "(Boris) Yeltsin is fighting the same battle in Russia.

It's absurd. We have to come before parliament every time,

Mr. Kravchuk said he proposed sweeping constitutional changes putting himself at the head of government to end the infighting and safeguard national security.

"I was ashamed at the way

Mr. Hall emphasised that

Bob Hall.

fired upon.

government.

legislation.

by conservatives.

someone sneezes."

There was no consideration

Pentagon reports navy positions on three separate occa- four separate locations from fire, the Pentagon said Thursday. 8:13 p.m. local time, Mr. Hall

"there was no damage to any U.S. and its allies after the Gulf

ledged that in one case, one of FBI, Secret Service suspect Iraq

the F-15 crews took evasive action to evade the tracer fire. border completes work, page 2

Ukraine thrown into constitutional logiam

lyse reforms after the prime told parliament.

KIEV (R) — Ukraine was deputies were walking all over thrown Friday into a constitution-al crisis which threatens to para-being directed against me," he although stripped of extra powers Mr. Kuchma against resigning. he was given last year to intro-But Mr. Kuchma's aides said the jets fired on over Iraq

Deputy Foreign Minister Yossi Beilin said he did not believe these parties could be brought going towards peace and not towards harming the peace process. I do not see any chance of a coalition between us and parties who want to torpedo the peace Mr. Rabin has not committed

The referendum idea surfaced

Haidar Abdul Shafi said on Thursday peace talks should be suspended unless Israel conceded Palestinian self-rule over all the occupied territories including East Jerusalem.

Arabs as a death blow to the which tracer rounds were fired at ed away, Mr. Hall said.

rounds were aimed at the planes,

he said. There was no indication that ground radar had been used to Firing at or spotting an aircraft

Not a single decision has been ist on the president taking over

Mr. Kravchuk said he advised prime minister had been told of

Mr. Kravchuk's proposed constitutional changes only an hour before they were announced

Deputies one after the other

Kuchma is our first leader to took the microphone to defend the prime minister.

government back."

adopted since April. I do not all powers. But the question of powers must be addressed."

with radar would be a violation of the "no-fly" rules imposed by the locate the aircraft, he said.

talks between Israel and Syria, Lebanon, Jordan and Palesti-

Labour and Tsomet, headed by former chief of staff Rafael Eitan, have had only informal coalition talks, Mr. Ben-Ari said.

▶ In Amman, Palestinian negotiators said Wednesday they and the United States had resumed discussions on a Palestinian document setting out their view of what should be the principles behind an interim peace settle-

The Palestinian draft, obtained by Reuters, sets October 1994 as the date for starting negotiations on the final status of the occupied territories because it considers that the interim period began on Oct. 30, 1992, Palestine Liberation Organisatin (PLO) sources

The draft is the Palestinians' answer to an Israeli draft which the Palestinian delegation rejected at the latest round of peace talks in Washington. The Palestinians were also unenthusiastic about a U.S. compromise docu-

Washington determined to seek Mideast peace — Indyk, page 2, Arms talks inch abead, page 10.

Gold rally

slipped from earlier highs and the dollar gained against the mark on Friday but European share markets declined, uninspired by record closes on Wall Street.

On May 19 at 12:20 a.m. two navy F-15Es saw anti-aircraft rounds being fired along the path of a searchlight. One of the planes dispensed chaff and bank-The Pentagon "can't conclude one way or another" whether the day's $373.30 close.

The dollar was also robust, news for the dollar over the past couple of days and it has stayed remarkably resilient," said a London dealer.

vote in a referendum on the Maastricht Treaty on closer eco-points. The dow opened weaker on Friday, off 8.31 points at 3,514,97 by 1600 GMT.

"People are getting a bit wary, that's why we haven't charged ahead," said a London dealer. Even a drop in inflation to 1.3 per cent in Britain, its lowest year-on-year rate since February 1964, failed to stir the index of

In Germany the 30-share dax finished 6.82 points down at 1,610.59 in weak trading with many dealers extending Thurs-

The CAC-40 index in Paris was closed on Friday for a long holiday weekend and will reopen on Monday. On Wednesday the index finished at 1,836.78, down day play near a destroyed shopping centre in Kabul Afghan capital (see page 10) Israelis allow Palestinians to Jerusalem to pray at Aqsa

PLAYING UNDERFIRE: Afghan children Fri- amid reports of continued factional fighting in the OCCUPIED JERUSALEM (Agencies) - For the first time since the Israeli army closed the occupied West Bank seven weeks ago, some Muslims were allowed to travel to Jerusalem Friday for weekly prayers.

Israel Radio said that about 5,000 people were brought on Arab buses from the occupied West Bank, joining at least as many Muslims from Jerusalem at the Old City's Al Aqsa Mosque. Residents of the occupied Gaza Strip were not permitted to make the journey.

The radio said that several buses were turned back for lack of proper permit.

Thousands of police were on duty. Outside the mosque compound, they collected Palestinians' ID cards and they entered nd returned them after pravers.

No incidents were reported. The mosque, Islam's third holiest site. is in Arab East Jerusalem is the major Friday prayer site in the Holy Land.

The closure had cut off Palestinians in the West Bank and Gaza from East Jerusalem, the Palestinian economic and political cen-

Among those who came to pray Friday was Muhammad Al Rajoub, a florist from the West away from Jerusalem. Bank village of Dura south of He complained that although he was allowed to pray, he and the other Palestinians were not allowed to visit friends or shop. "I have a great joy mixed with suffering," Mr. Rajoub, 23, said outside Al Aqsa. "The joy be-cause of being able to worship God, and the suffering because of being without job."

Israel saled off the Gaza Strip killed by suspected Palestinians. Outside the mosque, two dom of religion.

Palestinian vouths held a banner centered by a hand grasping a bloody dagger. The banner was signed by the Muslim fun-

The youths wore black sacks over their heads and shoulders to mask their identities.

Prayer leader Hayan Al Adrisi criticised Israel for closing the territories and keeping Muslims "They permitted Muslims to pray only on Friday," he said. "What is the situation for the other days? What is the situation for jobs and education?" He also said Palestinians were very discouraged with the U.S.backed peace talks between Israel and the Arabs. "The land will not be yours.

Do not be fooled by promises," Sheikh Adrisi said. Several worshippers said they of March 29 and the West Bank felt Israel allowed some Muslims on March 31 after 13 Israelis were to Jerusalem for "public relareasons rather

"It is a sheer propaganda." said Ashraf Warad, 19, a student

(Continued on page 10)

from a Khmer Rouge family in the border village of Phum Malai prepares to cross a heavily-gaurded nouk warns Khmer Range, page 8) bridge at the border of Thailand and Cambodia under the eyes of Khmer Rouge guerrillas (Siha-

Carbomb kills 2 in Cairo

CAIRO (Agencies) — A car-bomb exploded at a bus station in people and wounding 13 others, The bomb believed to have been planted by Muslim militants, was concealed in a parked car and badly damaged a nearby police station. The blast killed a 10-year-old girl and a government employee and wounded at least 13 other people, the Interior Ministry. Nobody claimed responsibility for the attack, but it appeared certain to have been the work of Islamic extremists. Earlier Friday, suspected extremists killed a police officer in an ambush in southern Egypt during noon pravers. The blast appeared to be an escalation of the militants' campaign of violence designed to overthrow Egypt's secular goverament with one based on the been killed in Egypt since March

Iranian Islamic model. It was the first time a carbomb has been central Cairo Friday, killing two used in more than a year of intensified violence pitting Muslim militants against Egyptian security forces.

The Interior Ministry statement, broadcast by Egyptian television, said the blast damaged two cars other than the Peugeot containing the bomb, carved a deep hole in the pavement and destroyed some offices of the government's records depart-

Police said the 35-year-old govemment employee killed in the bombing apparently was not a target but was walking past the car when it exploded.

Some police sources estimated that as many as 30 people had been injured. A doctor at one nearby hospital said he had nine cases, of whom five were critically injured. More than 120 people have last year, either by militant gunmen and bombers or in retaliatory raids by the security forces. Retuer photographer Aladin Abdul Naby reported from the scene that the bomb appeared to have been placed under a car the police station. The area is near the headquarters of two of Egypt's main daily newspapers and Cairo's main railway station but the street was parked outside the back door of quieter than usual on Friday. Militants carried out three bomb attacks in Cairo in March. One bomb exploded in the Pyramid of Chephren at Giza, one blew up under a tourist bus outside the Egyptian museum and the third killed a police explosives expert trying to defuse it. Militants shot at a car carrying Information Minister Safwat

Fourteen militants went on trial in a military court two weeks

Sherif in April.

Belgrade refuses monitors of blockade on Serbia

SARAJEVO (Agencies) - International efforts to isolate Bosnia's rebel Serbs suffered a setback Friday when rump Yugoslavia refused to accept the deployment of U.N. monitors to enforce a blockade on its borders with Bosnia.

The decision came ahead of an expected U.N. Security Council resolution to send about 500 inspectors to Serbia to ensure that it kept its promise to cut off arms supplies to the Bosnian Serbs. It was sure to complicate even further efforts by the United States, Russia and Western Europe to force a common strategy on ending the 13-month conflict following the Bosnian Serb rejection of a U.N.-backed peace plan. They (U.N. monitors) do not solve the problem and they endanger our sovereignty and offend the dignity of our state," Yugoslavia's Federal President Dobrica Cosic told British Sky News Television.

U.S. President Bill Clinton met Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Kozyrev in Washington after senior officials said they were moving closer together in their

But Mr. Clinton said afterwards he was sceptical about the efforts to end fighting. Creating havens for Muslims in territory dominated by Serbs could lead to problems similar to those in Lebanon and Northern Ireland.

Asked if the United States was embracing the Russian plan to end the civil war, Mr. Clinton replied. "We will try to reach an agreement about what we do next. As you know, the United States is satisfactorily resolve this within the framework that has been

We do want to work with our allies and we're trying to do our best to reach a joint position. It may happen, and I hope we can do it," he said.

"Our fundamental interests... are two: We want the conflict to be contained and we want the ethnic cleansing to stop." Mr. Clinton said as he posed for pictures at the start of a cabinet meeting.

He voiced strong reluctance about accepting the idea of creating safe havens in Bosnia.
"I don't want to see the United States get into the position where we're re-creating Northern Ireland, Lebanon, or Cyprus," he said, referring to other bitter conflicts. "There may be some potential down the road for something to be done with in connection with peacekeeping operations but I think it's something we need to be very sceptical about."

The U.N. Security Council has put off Resolutions on Bosnia to give time for European ministers and U.S. officials to meet again to try to reach consensus.

Belgrade, previously blamed for fuelling the war, threw its weight behind the U.N. peace plan earlier this month in the hope that the world would respond by lifting crippling economic sanctions against Serbiadominated Yugoslavia.

But Bosnia's Serbs have reected the plan, which would divide the republic into 10 ethnic cantons and require them to give up territory they have won, and say they will accept only a confederation or will declare full inde-

Belgrade responded by declaring its border with Bosnia closed except for food aid and medicines.

Bosnia's warring parties accused each other of launching new attacks Friday but fighting appeared to have eased. (see page

The head of the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation's (NATO) parliamentary arm called Friday for air strikes against Bosnian Serbs if they continued to block a peaceful solution to the conflict. Loic Bouvard, president of the North Atlantic Assembly to the conflict grouping legislators from NATO countries, said the Bosnian civil war would be the main topic at the assembly's biannual

WASHINGTON (R) — President Glafcos Clerides of Cyprus said Friday he would urge the United States to become a guarantor of a possible future agreement retuniting his divided island. Mr. Clerides said even a U.S. "declaration of intent" to guarantee Cyprus's independence and territorial integrity would reassure the rival Greek and Turkish communicies and hoost chances for settlement of the 18-year-old conflict. "I occupied Arab lands TEL AVIV (R) — Israeli Prime quiring the return of occupied Minister Yitzhak Rabin could Arab territory. A referendum is offer to call a referendum on any part of the price demanded by small right-wing and religious parties who oppose a land-forpeace deal.

> into the government. This is a government that is process," he told Israel Radio. himself to holding a referendum but he has told Jewish settlers from the occupied Golan Heights it was a reasonable possibility, principle of land for peace.

Chief Palestinian negotiator

Bringing a right-wing party into the government could be seen by fizzles and dollar gains

don at $374.65 an ounce, but the rally that sent prices to a post-Gulf war high of 384 on Wednesday fizzled. Gold was fixed in the afternoon at $373.25 after Thurs-

"People have had a bruising back to take stock," a dealer said.

firming to 1.6255 marks, up more than a pfennig, from Thursday's 1.6140 close. It also held its own against the yen at 110.35 compared to the previous 110.43.

In the European exchange rate mechanism, the escudo and peseta were holding at the top of the grid following last week's de-valuations. The Danish crown nomic union.

work with a conscience," Stepan Khmara, a nationalist who rarely supports the government, told the chamber. "We must bring this Deputies rejected Mr. Kuchma's resignation 223 to 90 and then overwhelmingly approved granting extra powers to Mr. Kravchuk, though this fell far short of what Mr. Kravchuk originally sought. They closed debate by approving big increases in minimum wages and pensions to compensate for large price rises being introduced. Parliament also asked the government to extend large subsidies to help agriculture, a move at odds with the liberal reforms pursued by Mr. Kuchma.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy jets patrolling the southern "no-fly" zone of Iraq encountered On May 17, two navy F-14s LONDON (R) - Gold prices anti-aircraft fire from ground reported seeing search lights at

The precious metal still had plenty of sparkle, closing in Lon-couple of weeks and are sitting "It's all in the hands of the speculators and investment funds," added another.

"There's been little or no good was also stronger at 3.8278 per mark after the country's "Yes"

Trading was quiet on most markets after Thursday's ascension day holiday. France and Belgium were also closed Friday. European share markets paid little attention to a new record high by the Dow Jones industrial average on Thursday when it closed at 3,523.28, up 23.25

100 leading shares. The Index made early gains but slipped into negative territory to close 4.6 down at 2.812.2.

day's holiday.

9.62 points.

U.S. determined to work for Middle East peace, Indyk says

Clinton administration is "deter- Iraq is clearly understood. Simply mined to devote energy to seizing stated, we seek Iraq's full comhe moment" of Middle East eace, Martin Indyk, director of Sear East and South Asian fairs at the National Security Council, said Wednesday.
Mr. Indyk outlined the Clinton acministration's approach to inddle East policy during an address to the Washington Institate for Near East Policy's 1993-Soref Symposium, "Challenges to U.S. Interests in the Middle East: Obstacles and Opportunities." Mr. Indyk described the Clinion administration's strategy in the Middle East in including: "Dual containment' of Iraq and Iran in the east;

-- "Promotion of Arab-Israeli peace in the west;

- "Backed by energetic efforts to stem the spread of weapons of mass destruction and promote a vision of a more democratic and prosperous region for all the peo-pies of the Middle East."

On the Middle East peace negotiations, Mr. Indyk said "the Clinton administration's challenge here is to turn the peace process into peacemaking, achieving an early breakthrough to peace agreements."

The administration, he said, must counter the "determined efforts by both Iran and Iraq to rebuild their arsenals, particularly in the nuclear and ballistic missile fields."

Discussing the roots of extremism in the region, Mr. Indyk said the United States must "help the people and governments of the Middle East confront this emerging threat, in part by pursuing peace with vigour, in part by containing extremism throughout the region, and in part by holding out an alternative vision of democratic political development and free market economic development not just for the people of the former Soviet Union, but for the people of the Middle East as

The following are excerpts from Mr. Indyk's statement: "Iran has demonstrated its regional reach by fishing in troubled waters all the way from the Gulf, through Egypt and Lebanon to Algeria. Its funding, arming and training of Hizbollah and Hamas have gained it an ability to interfere in the Arab-Israeli peace process as well. And its North Korean missiles could provide it with the capability of striking Israel and the Arab states. In short, what happens in the east of the region can now have immediate import for events in the west of the region, and vice versa.

"The Clinton administration's policy of 'dual containment' of trag and Iran derives in the first instance from an assessment that the current Iraqi and Iranian regimes are both hostile to American interests in the region. Accordingly, we do not accept the argument that we should continue the old balance of power game, building up one to balance the other. We reject that approach not only because its pankruptcy was demonstrated in Iraq's invasion of Kuwait. We reject it because of a clearheaded assessment of the antagonism that both regimes harbour towards the U.S. and its allies in the region. And we reject it because we don't need to rely on one to balance the other. The coalition that fought Saddam remains together, as long as we are able to maintain our military presence in the region, as long as we succeed in restricting the military ambitions of both Iraq and Iran and as long as we can rely on our regional allies — Egypt, Israel, Szudi Arabia and the GCC, and Turkey — to preserve a balance of power in our favour in the wider Middle East region, we will have the means to counter both the Iraqi and Iranian regimes. We will not need to depend on one to counter the other. "I hope that by now Clinton pliance with all U.N. resolutions. The regime of Saddam Hussein must never again pose a threat to Iraq's neighbourhood. And we are also committed to ensuring Irag's compliance with U.N. Resolution 688, which calls upon the regime to end its repression of the Iragi people.

"Our purpose is deliberate: it is to establish clearly and unequivocally that the current regime in Iraq is a criminal regime, beyond the pale of international society and, in our judgment, irredeem-

"Containing the threat from Iran is a more difficult though no less necessary undertaking. When we assess Iranian intentions and capabilities we see a dangerous combination for Western interests. Iran is engaged in a five-part challenge to the United States and the international community. It is foremost state sponsor of terrorism and assassination across the globe. Through its support for Hamas and Hizbollah, Iran is doing its best to thwart our efforts to promote peace between Israel, the Palestinians and the Arab states. Through its connections with Sudan, Iran is fishing in troubled waters across the Arab World. actively seeking to subvert friendly governments. Through its active efforts to acquire offensive weapons, Iran is seeking an ability to dominate the Gulf by military means. And, perhaps most disturbing, Iran is seeking a WMD (weapons for mass destruction) capability including clandestine nuclear weapons capability and ballistic missiles to deliver weapons of mass destruction to the Middle East.

"The necessity to act now derives from the fact that Iran's threatening intentions for the moement outstrip its capabilities. But this moment will not last for long. If we fail in our efforts to modify Iranian behaviour, five years from now Iran will be much more capable of posing a real threat to Israel, to the Arab World and to Western interests in the Middle East. The opportunity to act now, on the other hand, derives from the fact that Iran is no longer a good commercial proposition. It is $5 billion in arrears on its short term international loans and this figure is growing in leaps and bounds. Iran suffers from 30 per cent inflation In short, Iran is a bad investment in both commercial and strategic terms, not just for the United States but for all responsible members of the international community.

Pursuing peace

"This effort at dual containment in the Gulf is also lent greater urgency by its impact on the other arm of our policy toward the Middle East — the pursuit of Middle East peace. The opportunity that we believe exists for Arab-Israeli peacemaking stems in large part from changes in strategic circumstances in the region.

"After four decades of trying to settle their conflict by force, Arabs and Israelis have come to recognise that it is time to settle their differences through direct negotiations. But if the balance of power in the region should shift the again in favour of radical forces led by Iraq or Iran, this effort is likely to fail as the military option appears more viable to some of the participants in the negotiations

"President Clinton's ability to fulfill his campaign promise to maintaining continuity in these peace negotiations was due in large part to the fact that the strategic calculations of the parties to the peace negotiations had not changed in the interregnum the one new factor that emerged achieved."

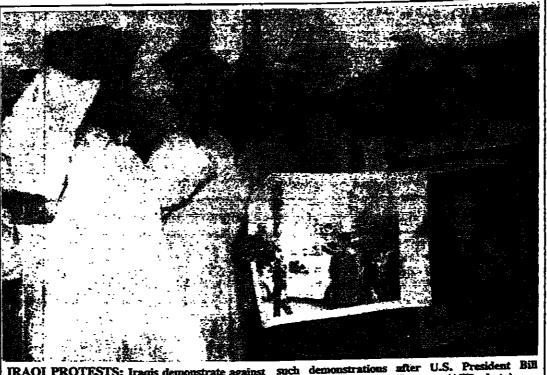

tide of religious extremism seemed actually to reinforce the interests of all the parties not only in returning to the table, but also in demonstrating that negotiations can produce results. For the Islamic extremists pose a common threat to all the parties engaged in the peace talks, be it Israel, the Palestinians or even

"Nevertheless, bringing the parties back to the table was still no easy task. And the way the Clinton administration pursued this objective has established a precedent for the way we will conduct policy towards the negotiations. First, based on our assessment that the negotiations were ripe for breakthroughs on several fronts, we offered to step up America's role in the negotiations by offering to become a "full partner" to all the parties. This, however, remains a contingent offer. We can only be a full partner if the parties themselves are willing to assume their responsibilities. In this regard, returning to the table is not enough. We cannot and will not substitute ourselves for their direct involvement with each other in the giveand-take of negotiations. If they are ready to solve their problems through compromises which take account of the minimum requirements of the other side, we are ready to act as the facilitator and intermediary. But we will not be the ones to deliver or impose our

'Second, the president and the secretary of state made it clear that our approach to the negotiations will involve working with Israel, not against it. We are committed to deepening our strategic partnership with Israel in the pursuit of peace and security. Those who genuinely seek a comprehensive and real peace recognise that this cannot be accomplished without Israel undertaking a withdrawal from territory, involving tangible risks to its security. And those who seek real progress should understand that it won't come without this kind of special relationship between the U.S. and Israel.

"Prime Minister Rabin has made it clear that his government is ready to take those risks for peace. But he cannot do that unless Israel is offered real peace in return and unless Israel is secure in the knowledge that the .United States stands four-square behind it. That is precisely why, when the prime minister told prepared to take risks for peace, President Clinton responded that our role is to minimise those

"Third, we have demonstrated that we are also prepared to work as full partners with the Arab parties involved in the negotiations. They too will have to take risks for peace — and we recognise this. We understand the pressure the Palestinian negotiators are under and the difficulties they have in engaging in negotiations. But to achieve their objectives there can be no substitute for engaging in negotiations about the substance of interim self-government arrangements without knowing the final status of the West Bank and Gaza. They will know, however, that engagement will bring empowerment over their lives and fate for the first time in their troubled history. And they will know that in third year of the interim period they will be in a position to negotiate the final status issues under the aegis of U.N. Resolutions 242 and 338. The Syrians need to be willing to commit themselves to real peace with Israel with all that means for ending the conflict, normalising relations, opening borders, ex-changing embassies and establishing commercial relations. If they are ready to engage in negotiations in this way, we are ready to do our part to ensure that a between administrations. Indeed, breakthrough to peace is

IRAQI PROTESTS: Iraqis demonstrate against such demonstrations after U.S. President Bill the United Nations in Baghdad in one of the few Clinton took office in January (AFP photo)

King Hassan II Acrimony greets Amnesty mission in Morocco

RABAT (R) - A delegation from Amnesty International, a human rights group described as useless by Morocco's King Has-san, began talks Friday with Moroccan officials for the first time in three years.

In a recent report, the Londonbased organisation attacked alleged human rights abuse in Morocco which it said included the detention of numerous people

The three-member Amnesty mission is the first to hold talks in Morocco in three years since a previous delegation was asked to leave the country.

Led by Amnesty Deputy Secretary-General Herve Berger of Switzerland, the delegation now in Rabat conferred with leaders of the multi-party Consultative Council for Human Rights (CCDH) appointed by King Hassan three years ago. In a statement issued Thurs-meet the mission "in an atmosphere of transparency, clarity, objectivity and honesty.' But the CCDH reproached Amnesty for issuing a report cri-

day, the CCDH said it would tical of Morocco last March despite its request to delay publication until talks were held. "The report was in fact a campaign waged against Morocco by a group trying to tarnish its reputation, for purposes other than the defence of human rights," the CCDH said. "Such a report shows the organisation's bias, which is contrary to the principles of independence and neutrality that any human rights organisation in the world should observe," it added, King Hassan, in a French television interview broadcast Sunday, said: "I don't see why it (Amnesty) comes to put its nose in our affairs."

Amnesty, he said, was an "old and completely faded thing that has no further use."

ZARQA: Dr. Ziad Ju'citim

Investigators build case against bombing suspects

The New York Times and Washington Post

FINGERPRINT BY fingerprint, investigators in the World Trade Centre bombing are amassing forensic evidence, from New Jersey apartments and a storage locker where bomb-making chemicals were kept, that further links suspects in the conspiracy

Laboratory reports from the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) suggest that the fingerprint evidence will be one of the crucial elements that will be unveiled in the trial of the seven people charged in the Feb. 26 bombing that left six people dead and injured more than 1,000.

The reports show that Mohammad A. Salameh, the first suspect arrested, handled numerous items in the Jersey City storage locker where investigators say the explosive ingredients were stored. His fingerprints were found on a black plastic bottle of shotgun powder, as well as a 50-pound (22-kilo) bag of the chemical, ammonium nitrate and a brown bottle of a third chemical. He also handled a glass beaker and plastic bottle, according to the laboratory reports.

Ramzi Ahmad Yousef, a missing suspect who has prompted an international manhunt, left fingerprints on a brown bottle of sodium azide, the reports say. Sodium azide is a propellant that Another report shows for the out bail.

trieved both Jordanian and Iraqi currency in their search of sites linked to the suspects.

And FBI searches at the home of another suspect, Nidal A. Ayyad of Maplewood, New Jersey, have yielded a plastic bag of bullets and a gun clip, as well as paraphernalia linked to a defunct Brooklyn company that had been investigated for fraud, the search records show...

Mohammad Ahmad Ajaj, 27, a Palestinian who authorities said entered the United States illegally last September with manuals on bomb making, was indicted Wednesday 19 on charges that he conspired in the Feb. 26 bomb-

Like four other suspects Mohammad Salameh, 25; Nidal Ayyad, 25; Mahmud Abou Halima, 33, and Bilal Alkaisi, 27 -Ajaj is being held without bail pending trial in September. A sixth suspect, Ramzi Ahmad Yousef, 26, is a fugitive and is believed to have left the country. Ajaj and Yousef flew here from Pakistan last Sept. 1.

according to a complaint filed against Ajaj by federal prosecutors, and Ajaj was arrested for using a false Swedish passport. Authorities said 12 bomb-making manuals, were found in his brief-

Ibfahim Al Gabrowny, not a suspect in the bombing, was reindicted on charges that he obn gas and is structed investi usually used in inflating air bags. dent. He also is being held with-

FBI, Secret Service said to believe Iraq plotted to kill Bush

WASHINGTON (AP) -Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and Socret Service Investigators believe Iraq sent agents to assassinate President George Bush in Kuwait, but the White House is pressing for firmer evidence, two administration officials said Thursday.

The administration has said it would respond against Iraq if it finds the allegations to be true. But the White House and some State Department officials have been urging caution, said one of Both spoke only on condition of anonymity.

White House spokesman

George Stephanopoulos would say little on the subject besides, we have no final conclusions from the investigation at all." He said he did not know how long it would take for a report to be concluded and sent to president Clinton.

The FBI and Secret Service agents began their investigation in Kawait 16 days ago and have since interviewed the 11 Iraqi suspects jailed April 13, the officials said. Most of the team returned to Washington recently, said a third official.

Based on their interviews, on Kuwaiti-supplied information, and on the types of explosives found in the suspects' possession, the team is now certain that Iraq's ministry of intelligence sent agents to kill Mr. Bush when he visited Kuwait April 14-16, the two officials said.

Scepticism within the admi-nistration has stemmed from several factors:

U.S. officials were disturbed that Kuwait did not tell them it had arrested the 11 Iraqis and five other suspects until either late in the Bush visit or after-Although it appeared Kuwait held off because it didn't want to risk a cancellation of the visit - which was a salute to Mr. Bush's leadership in reversing Iraq's invasion of Kuwait -U.S. officials were still concerned the Kuwaitis might have been hiding information. The State Department also reported that the suspects appeared to have been tortured in captivity, causing some doubts about the veracity of the Kuwaitis, said the officials.

The Iraqis originally tried by pass themselves off as some glers, but quickly broke down under Kuwaiti questioning, said one of the officials.

Kuwaiti authorities announced from the start that they would not extradite that suspects to the United States the United States has not re-quested it — and would put them on trial. The trial is set for June 5, and the Iraqis, as well as one of the five other non-Iraqis arrested in the allogod plot, could face death sentences if convicted.

Some of the suspects did not seem to know who the target of the planned attacks was -although one told authorities that it was Mr. Bush, the officials said.

One of the investigators' main tasks was to find out whether Mr. Bush was in fact the target, or whether the suspects meant to set off bombs around Kuwait City to disrupt the visit. The investigators quickly concluded that Iraq was behind the mission, based largely on the fact that the explosives in a car bomb rigged to explode near a building Mr. Bush was to visit were of the type used by Iraq in past acts.

Having interviewed the sus pects over the past two weeks. the team also was convinced that their target was Mr. Bush, said one official. The interviews have borne out everything that Kuwait claimed about the suspects and their intentions - especially that one of the suspects planned to strap explosives around his body and blow himself up next to Mr. Bush, in case the car bomb failed to hit its mark, he

As for possible U.S. retaliation against Iraq, options appear limited.

Restrictive international connomic sanctions are already in place, imposed by the U.N. to punish Iraq for its invasion of

- In international debates, some officials have suggested bombing Iraqi targets such as the Ministry of Intelligence in Baghdad — but the suggestion was not met with wide approval because of the civilian casualone of the two officials.

U.N. panel completes Kuwait-Iraq border

UNITED NATIONS (USIA) — Secretary General Boutros Ghali Thursday called the work of the United Nations Iraq-Kuwait boundary demarcation commission "a noteworthy international success" and called upon Iraq "to respect the objectivity and impartiality" of the results.

"The commission's demarcation of the boundary between Iraq and Kuwait is in conformity with Resolution 687 and with the Charter of the United Nations, Mr. Ghali said. "The decisions of the commission concerning the demarcation of the boundary are

The certified copies of the demarcated boundary coordinates will be deposited in the U.N. archives and "represent the final and authentic description" of the Irac-Kuwait boundary, he said.

The boundary demarcation commission is the first U.N. group set up as a result of Iraq's invasion of Kuwait to complete the work set out for it by the Security Council.

"Law, technology, diplomacy, and security have come together in a unique United Nations endeavour. All those involved can take great pride in this outcome. Together you have made a strong contribution to peace and stabil-ity for the region and the world," the secretary general told the commission members.

The commission held its final session from May 17 to 20 at U.N. headquarters, approving coordinates constituting the final demarcation of the international boundary. It turned over copies of the coordinates, a map illustrating the boundary and its final report to the secretary general.

"The nature of the task related solely to the demarcation of the boundary and its work was technical and not political. In demarcating the boundary, the commission relied on the most advanced technology, including the use of satellite systems, digital terrain modeling, aerial photography, and tide gauges," a commission statement said.

The work produced "a precise well-documented and verifiable demarcation of the entire boundary," Mr. Ghali said. "Boundary markers will clearly display the course of the line. Satellite technology has enabled the commission to position each marker with a margin of error of only 1.5 cm. This would have been unthinklooking at this precedent to demarcate their boundaries," he added.

Wadi Al Batin divides the traditional grazing lands equally and leaves the historically important Hulaiba wells in Iraq, the commission said. The position of the boundary has been fixed south of Safwan where a notice board marked it between 1923 and 1939.

The commission said that the port complex of Umm Oasr and the waters of the Khowr Zhobeir on which it stands have been confirmed as lying within Iraq. The median line demarcating the Khowr Abdullah helps ensure access by both parties to the sea.

"The commission has not reallocated territory between Kuwait and Iraq, but has simply carried out the technical task necessary to demarcate, for the first time, the precise coordinates of the international boundary reaffirmed in the 1963 Agreed Minutes," the commission statement said.

The commission has also completed the physical demarcation, pated; however, Iraq boyo placing 106 boundary pillars and the remaining six session.

"Other countries already are 28 intermediate boundary markers on the land boundary. The boundary along the low-water line in the Khowr Zhobeir and The Western boundary in the the median-line boundary in the Khowr Abdullah section have been demarcated by coordinates.

The secretary general also told the commission that he is making arrangements for the future maintenance of the boundary pillars and markers and helping the parties settle "some practical problems" that have arisen with the demarcation.

The commission was set up in May 1991 by the ceasefire resolution the Security Council adopted at the end of the Gulf war to demarcate the international boundary between the two countries as set out in the "Agreed Minutes" signed by both in 1963. It was composed of five members: three independent experts appointed by the secretary general and representatives of Iraq and

During its first five sessions during which the commission considered the offshore section and took decisions on the land boundary, all members participated; however, Iraq boycomed

JORDAN TIMES DAILY GUIDE AND CALENDAR

JORDAN TELEVISION Tel: 773111-19

PROGRAMME INO
18:30 Les Aventuries de l'Espace 18:39 Geopolis
18:39 Geopolis
19:00 News in French
19:15 Fenetre sur
19-39 News in Hebrew
20:00 News in Arabic
20:30 Super Bloopers
20:30 Super Bloopers 21:60 Perspectives
23:30 Music
22-66 News in English
22:23 Feature Film: "Nothing Personor" PRAYER TIMES

'Ast

St. Mary of Nazareth Church Sweifleh Assemblies of God Church, Tel. St. Jeseph Church Tel. 624590.

CHURCHES

De in Suile Church Tel. 661757 Terrasuncta Church Tel: 622366 Church of the Assunciation Anglican Church Tel. 630851, Tel. 628543. Armenian Catholic Church Tel. 771331. Armenian Orthodox Church Tel. St. Ephraim Church Tel. 771751. Azaman International Church Tel.

Evangelical Letheran Church Tel: 824328. The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints Tel. 823824, 654932

WEATHER Bulletin supplied by the Department of

It will be partly cloudy and there will be a chance for scattered showers of rain. Winds will be westerly moderate, freshening at times. In Agaba, winds will be northerly moderate and seas

Min./Max. temp. 14 / 25 raba 20 / 31
rdan Valley 12 / 28
rdan Valley 18/30
sterday's high temperatures: Am- na 26, Aqaba 31, Humidity readings: nman 14 per cent, Aqaba 28 per nt.
SEFUL TELEPHONE NUMBERS
NIGHT DUTY OMAN:
. Yousef Nasser 751144
. Rizq Abu Zeineh
r. 1900aunuad Al Azzen 132911 • Violed Mojedii - 74360

USEFUL TELEPHONE NUMBERS
NIGHT DUTY
AMMAN: Dr. Yousef Nasser
ORBID: Dr. Ali Al Shuqairi

EMERGENCIES
Food Control Centre
Researce Emergency
Rescue Police 192, 621111, 637777 Fire Brigade 891228
Blood Bank
Pablic Police
Price Complaints
Water and Sewerage Complaints
Assuman Municipality Complaints Complaints Overseas Calls Repairs
Radio Jordan
Jordan Electricity Authority 815615

HOSPITALS
AMMAN: Hussein Medical Centre 813813/32 Khalidi Maternity, J. Amm 644281/6 Akileh Maternity, J. Amm 642441/2 Jabal Amman Maternity 642441/2 Jabal Amman Maternity 636140 Palestine, Shmeisani 664171/4 Shmeisani Hospital 669131 University Hospital 848845 Al-Muasher Hospital 666127/37 The Islamic, Abdali 666127/37 Al-Ahli, Abdali 664164/6 Italian, Al-Muhajreen 777101/3
Al-Bashir, J. Ashrafieh 775111/26
Army, Marka
Amal Hospital 674155
ZARQA:
Zarqa Govt. Hospital (09)983323 Zarqa National Hospital (09)900560
Ibn Sina Hospital (09)986732
Ibn Sins Hospital (09)986732 Al Hikuz Modern Hospital (09) 990990
IRBID: Princess Basma Hospital (02)275555 Greek Catholic Hospital (02)277275 Ibn Al Naices Hospital (02)247100

AQABA: Princess Haya Hospital (03)314111
FOR THE TRAVELLER
QUEEN ALIA INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT
This information is supplied by Roya Jordanian (RJ) information department at the Oneen Alia Internations

ment at the Queen Alia International Airport Tel. (08)53200-5, where it ARRIVALS Royal Jordanian (RJ) Flights (Terminal 1)

Jakarta, Singapore (RJ) Toronto, Montreal (RJ) . New Delhi (R 14:15 11:15

Other Flights (Terminal 2) MARKET PRICES Rome, Beirut (AZ) Dubai, Damascus (EM)

DEPARTURES Royal Jordanian (RJ) Flights Dubei, Karachi (RJ) 18-30 12-50 London (RJ Bahrain, Doba (RJ

Other Flights (Terminal 2)

Banana (Mukamana)	· OUT 1 DEC
Banana (Mukammar)	. 620/62
Cabbase	. 540/450
Cucumbers (large)	170 100
Gardie	. 300 / 180
Gartic	. 260 / 201
Otion (green)	. 230 / 16
Pepper (hot)	. 450 / 35
shirt (sweet)	2007.14
Pepper (sweet) Potato Tomato	710/14
Tomato	 AIV 10
Spinach
	- 200/201

disciplinally the local services off as single durably broke dona and questioning the confincials. in authorite d from the stan be The trial is set in rated in the alegar d the suspects did no saw who the target. one fold authorized. Mr. Bush, the of the investigator to find e.

M. Bush was in b. or whether the & ant to set off both uwan City to date overtigators quick that Iraq was belied that based largely e hat the explosivery usted to calle lding Mr. Bush was of the type uselk is: acts. interviewed the & t the past two web also was comen target was Mr. Bet ···liciai sterviews have been vibing that Kmg shoul the suspected entions — espend of the suspects plane cupiosives around a Slow hiniself up er lust, in case the led to but its marke provide U.S. ret attack brade opne unuted dive international se entions are alreadmoved by the UK ing for its invasion ternational debar frage targets such estre of intelligence has the suggest met with wide appre of the civilian case male likely incur. S. h two officials.

oorder the land boundare arong the low-re-. Abown Zhohena an mer boundary at Visition section b strated by a profits and any general above process that he is the greats for the 🍽 and of the boundar! the very and helport other some prethat have anselve

..........

्रात्र काम सम्बद्धान a mise is sell in - ouncil adv he Gulf w in internant there the twon the 15 by both in and of five F the redent res inc secretary and in the second in ar and me e a die comme de Metrate & Consons on the members F Ital bas and a section arket prices

Iraq Bush

Foreign Ministry, Jakob Kellenberger to discuss Middle East developments (Petra photo) day receives the under-secretary of the Swiss

Swiss team to work on turning Jordan's debt into grant in fall

Staff Reporter

AMMAN — A Swiss delegation is due in Jordan in October to work out details of an agreement to transform Jordanian debts due to Switzerland into a grant, according to a spokesman for the Swiss embassy in Amman Friday.

The spokesman, F. Beltrametti, told the Jordan Times that agreement on this measure came during talks held over the past three days by the under secretary of the Swiss foreign ministry, Jakob Kellenberger, with government officials and His Royal Highness Crown Prince Jordan

The grant, he said, is another form of Swiss assistance to Jordan, which is trying to finance its development projects and to promote exports.

Mr. Kellenberger's talks were positive, covering future coopera-tion in several fields and further steps to bolster bilateral ties, said the spokesman.

Mr. Kellenberger, who left Amman for home Thursday, discussed Thursday morning economic and trade issues with Minister of Planning Ziad Fariz including continued economic assistance to Earlier, Mr. Kellenberger was received by Prime Minister Sharif Zeid Ben Shaker with whom he reviewed Middle East developments and the peace process. The Swiss official was quoted by the Jordan News Agency,

Petra, as expressing his country's support for Jordan's endeavours towards democarcy. During the talks here, Jordanian officials called on Switzerland to increase its contributions to the United Nations Relief and Works Agency (UNRWA) to help it overcome its present financial difficulties.

emotions, lest they fall in the trap of dissension and division." Referring to the religious awakening now obvious in va-rious Arab countries, the state-AMMAN — The Catholic bishops of the Middle East Friday ment stressed that "return to religion and spiritual meaning is a great thing, but such moves ought not to be transformed into extremism, violence and other malpractices, neither should piety become a reason for exercising pressure on others, negatively ffecting their private and public being committed in the name of religion.

"We voice our great joy and deep satisfaction with the very ife.
"The statement voiced the bishops" total condemnation of all forms of violence in the name of religion because "violence rise Muslim-Christian societies tends to distort the meaning of and are guaranteed by laws and religion and insults human digni-

> It called on Muslims and Christians to free their societies of violence and to continue to cling to the true spirit of religion and worship of God. Among the main topics discussed by the bishops, according to the statement, were religious education, family affairs and par-ticipation by Christians and Muslims in public life as well as collaboration in dealing with ignorance, jingoism and extrem-

"As believers in God, the Christians and Muslims are called on to co-exist in a way worthy of God's blessing," said the state-

It appealed to governments to create opportune climates for such peaceful co-existance and cooperation among the faiths, fostering affection and amity

His Royal Highness Crown Prince Hassan and Catholic Bishops of the Middle East Thursday at the Royal Court (Petra photo)

among them. With reference to the situation in the Middle East, the bishops expressed hope that the suffering of the Iraqi Lebanese, and Palestinian people will end, and that civil strife in Sudan will he settled soon.

Catholic bishops end meeting satisfied with common values of Christians, Muslims

On Thursday, His Royal Highness Crown Prince Hassan and Prime Minister Sharif Zeid Ben Shaker met separately with the bishops to voice their support for

AMMAN (Petra) — The total number of tourists and visitors to

Jordan in 1992 rose by 46 per cent over 1991, according to official figures issued by the Department of Statistics and quoted by the

The growth in tourism contrasted heavily with the relative low rates of visitors during the 1990 and 1991 periods which coincided with the Gulf crisis and its devastating effects on the tourism industry, said the statement.

It noted that Arab and foreign visitors to the Kingdom last year numbered 3,243,000, compared

Jordan News Agency, Petra.

In an address to the bishops, Prince Hassan pointed out that selfishness, ignorance and preference of material to spiritual values lay behind the ongoing conflicts in the Middle East and the Balkan peninsula.

He called for common concepts to be strengthened between followers of Christianity and Islam in a bid to overcome the present

1993 first quarter sees 17,234 visitors tourism was at its normal level.

from the Arab World constituted the largest sector of tourists last

But, it noted that Arab visitors year, accounting for more than 88 included Egyptians who came to the Kingdom for work or for a

Visitors from Asian countries like Japan, Malaysia, the Philippines, Thailand, Pakistan, South

Korea, India, Indonesia, Sri

Lanka and China made up the second largest category, accountshort stay.

with 2,281,000 in 1989 before the ing for 6.4 per cent of the total

Gulf crisis when the country's number of visitors,

The statement said visitors

sions, the Crown Prince said the present religious awakening reflects the return to true faith in God and joint belief in the mission of our father Abraham. The Prime Minister stressed the importance of the role of Muslim and Christian scholars in promoting public awareness and in religious education. He said this should enable all members of society to live in affection, tolerance and co-

from Europe came in third and accounted for nearly four per

Visitors came here last year from Germany, Italy, the United Kingdom and to a lesser degree from eastern European countries including Finland, the Netherlands, Belgium, Greece and De-

According to the statement, very few visitors came from

But it noted that visitors to Jordan in the first quarter of 1993 numbered 17,234 compared with 12,517 in the first three months of North and South America.

Noting that the Christians and the Muslims have divine mis-Tourism rises 46% in 1992

HOME NEWS IN BRIEF

King congratulates Yemeni president

AMMAN (J.T.) — His Majesty King Hussein Friday sent a cable to Yemeni President Ali Abdullah Saleh, congratulating him on the third anniversary of Yemen's reunification. The King wished President Saleh continued good health and happiness and the Yemeni people every success on the path of freedom, democratisation, progress and prospenty. On Thursday King Hussein telephoned Turkish President Suleiman Demirel, congratulating him on his election as president. The King and President Demirel reviewed bilateral relations and exchanged views on several issues

Dutch foreign minister to arrive for 1-day talks

AMMAN (Petra) - Dutch Foreign Minister Pieter Koijmans will arrive here Sunday on a one-day visit to Jordan for talks with his scounterpart Kamel Abu Jaber on means on enhancing bilateral cooperation. The two officials will also discuss issues of common concern, including the latest developments of the Middle East peace process and Holland's role and that of the European Community (EC) in advancing the efforts to establish a just peace

Arab-German panel official arrives for talks

RAMTHA (Petra) - The chairman of the Arab-German Chamber of Commerce and Industry Friday arrived here from Damascus on a three-day visit to Jordan, during which he will hold talks with Jordanian officials on means of promoting economic relations between both countries and enhancing com-

Police issue 75,683 traffic tickets in April

AMMAN (Petra) - The traffic police have issued 75,683 tickets to traffic law violators in various parts of the Kingdom last month, according to a statistical report by the department. The report said that 46,855 violators were referred to courts. It said JD28,828 tickets were paid in cash to the department, bringing in JD281,765 in revenues. Of the total number of tickets, 58.4 per cent were registered by the Amman police, 17.7 per cent by the highway patrol police, 9.6 per cent by the Zarqa police, 8.4 per cent by the Irbid police and two per cent by the Karak police.

By a Jordan Times Staff Reporter

wound up a four-day meeting in Amman by voicing deep satisfaction with what they termed the "positive and common denomi-nators dominating the lives of the Christian and Muslim communities" and by denouncing violence relaxed atmosphere and the justice and equality which characteconstitutions, said a final state-

"Christians and Muslims in the Arab World are brothers and citizens of the same homeland, and we are deeply satisfied with their interaction over the ages towards bolstering co-existence and serving common goals," the

The 11-point statement said politics continue to play a major role in affecting the destiny of Christian-Islamic relationships and that the sufferings of Muslims and Christians of the same country are the same, but such sufferings could be exploited by certain groups to sow seeds of dissension and division among the people."

Therefore, said the statement, "we appeal to the Christian and Muslim brothers alike to examine the situation carefully and refrain from being carried away with statement said.

ment of the deliberations.

IRBID GOVERNORATE Thursday celebrates the 40th anniversary of His Majesty organised with thousands of students as well as King Hussein's assumption of his constitutional powers. A major celebration was held at the municipal stadium area, where hundreds of addressed a special celebration held at Yardecorated cars carrying pictures of King mouk University to mark the occasion. Hussein and the Jordanian flag toured the main streets of the city. A march was also people from all walks of life participating, In the evening, Irbid Governor Fayez Al Abbadi

Specialists stress basic education

AMMAN (Petra) — Participants the years 1993-1995 be reviewed in a three-day regional consultan- and that further attention be cy meeting on educational re- directed to needs and priorities of novation Thursday concluded Arab countries. their discussions with a call for crystallising new educational goals for the Arab region.

They called for developing the philosophy, goals and content of education with a view to enhancing its contribution towards the preparation of new generations capable of facing up to future

They recommended that the educational renovation plan for Participants also stressed the importance of increasing enrollment rates in basic education and called for improving the quality of education and methods of evaluating the learning process.

They called for linking secondary education with the development needs and stressed the need for directing special care to gifted and excelling students. The participants also adopted a recommendation calling for de-veloping methods of evaluation at the secondary education level. developing educational management and teacher training prog-

The meeting was organised by the Ministry of Education in cooperation with the Amman office of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation (UNESCO).

Taking part in the meeting were delegates from 16 Arab countries, in addition to representatives of the Arab League.

Jordanian businessmen prepare for trade seminar in France

AMMAN (Petra) - Jordan will take part in an economic, industrial and trade seminar to be held in the French city of Lille on June 17, according to Mohammad Farhan, director general of the Jordanian Investments Corpora-

Dr. Farhan made the announcement in an address to a symposium held here Thursday to discuss Jordan's participation in the Lille seminar where, he said, a large number of companies from Europe and other contioting world trade.

In the two-day Lille seminar, more than 1,000 firms. Dr. Farhan said, representatives opportunity to meet their counto discuss prospects for increased laboratory with 16 units.

nents will discuss means of prom- the Jordanians to come in Lifect contact with representatives of

Among those addressing of major investment and indust- Thursday's meeting were reprerial firms in Jordan will have the sentatives of the European Community delegation office in Amterparts from European nations man who outlined the main purpose of the Lille meeting.

The French commercial modern technology.

Reservations in enacting some international conventions apply to Jordan as well — say human rights activists

By Sa'eda Kilani Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN — So many countries hasten to endorse international conventions and agreements, but when it comes to enactment, reservations and justifications come up and traditions are used as pretricts to their non-commitment to international standards. Jordan is no exception.

"Many developing countries sign a large number of these charters, but they do not apply them nor do they amend the country's laws to correspond to the agreements' stipulations," said Walced Sadi, a member of the Geneva-based U.N. Human Rights Committee.

Dr. Sadi was addressing a meeting last Wednesday at a seminar on the situation of human rights in Jordan. The seminar, which grouped human rights activists from different fields, was organised by the Arab Organisation for Human Rights - Jordan Branch as part of preparations for the world conference to be held in Vienna in June.

In his speech, Dr. Sadi said developed countries normally take quick action by changing their legislations to be consistent with international laws.

Despite a 1982 Cassation Court resolution that stipulates that international agreements and charters "supercede that of the country's laws" and aithough Jordan has signed many agreements and -conventions in favour of human rights, it has showed reservations over certain articles, out of which the "largest share goes to women," Dr. Sadi said.

For example, Jordan signed the agreement that bans all sorts of discrimination against women, but displayed reservation on some items that grant men and women equal status. The reservations included the right of women to have freedom of movement and freedom of choosing a place of residence, to have equal rights in choosing the nationality of their children and in matters related to marriage. "I don't see any justification for these reservations," Dr. Sadi said. "Women activists in the country should object to these reservations and demand their A participant said that certain articles in international laws contradict some countries' legislation inspired from "divine scripts," to which Dr. Sadi responded that draft resolutions for international agreements have been formulated by the countries themselves. "Even if they did not take part in formulating them," he said, "they could have objected during the drafting process on one hand. or they shouldn't have endorsed them if they are in contradiction with their constitutions on the

Freedom of Opinion and Expression

Commenting on Article 19 of the International Declaration of Human Rights, which guarantees to every person the freedom of opinion and expression, the second lecturer, Mohammad Masharqa, cited numerous violations of this right in Jordan by the. government, the press and the political parties themselves.

Mr. Masharqah described the Press and Publications Law as one among many instruments used to muzzle the press and restrict freedom of expression The law, effective since May 17, forces journalists to be members in the Jordanian Journalists'

Association, which is "in contradiction with Art. 20 of the International Declaration of Human Rights, which says that no person should be forced to belong to any society," he said. Mr. Masharqah said the law also forces journalists to reveal their sources in criminal cases and

Art. 8 of the same law was phrased in a way that would make it easy to send writers and journalists to prison." "Who can put a definition — that all people would agree upon

- on freedom, national responsibility, respect of Islamic and the Arab nation's values?" he asked. The law also imposes restrictions, mainly financial, on issuing a newspaper or establishing a publishing company, Mr.

Mashargah said. Articles which grant the journalist access to information are "blocked by other laws that prohibit employees to give state-ments to the press without formal permission," he said citing the example of Mustafa Odwan, the director of Research and Studies Centre (RSC) at the Lower House of Parliament. Dr. Odwan was transferred from his position at parliament, apparently because he talked to the press about improving the RSC. The constraints to freedom of expression. Mr. Masharqah said, include: The ideological intimidation the Islamic stream uses against "those who don't share their beliefs ... accusing them of being Zionist agents," the restrictions imposed by chief editors on writers; the censorship in television and the call for the establishment of a higher council for the

"It is so regretful that the minister of information, a former journalist himself, wants to impose restrictions on the press by forming a higher press council; another censorship institution," said Mr. Masharqah.

Women Abuse

Emily Naffa', a human rights. activist, pointed out that although women comprised the majority in the society (52 per cent of the population), their lives and careers are controlled by traditions, conventions and, above all, current legislations "that date back to ancient times."

The inequality between the sexes in the civil status law, men's right to arbitrary divorce, polygamy without conditions, and fixing minimum marriage age at 15, are "simple signs of the women's miserable status and discrimination against them," Ms. Naffa'

Women's participation in the workforce does not exceed 11.5

reaches 70 per cent.

The unemployment rate among women amounts to 34.4 per cent while it only stands at 14.5 for

According to Ms. Naffa', this is discrimination against women, barring them from equal chances of their male counterparts in school, the workplace and salar-

"Political parties, women's organisations and all progressive forces in the society must exert efforts to ensure that women enjoy full rights; not only through amending legislation but also by raising awareness among women themselves of their rights," Ms. Naffa' said, demanding a quota for women in parliament.

Labour Unions

No tangible progress had hap-pened in the labour movement in Jordan, four years after the introduction of democracy in Jordan. according to Yousef Horani, the president of the labour union. In 1990, an agreement was reached between a group of unions leaders with the General Union of Labour Federations "to put an end to the numerous violations (of the Labour Law), but nothing came out of that agreement," Mr. Horani noted. He said that so little has been done regarding the enhancement of the labour situation: emplovees are still refuctant to join_ general committees rarely convene and major issues and demands are ignored.

Minister plans more self-reliance projects for Aqaba region

AQABA (Petra) - Minister of Social Development Amin Mashaqbeh Thursday said the ministry will undertake a comprehensive social survey to assess the situation of people in this area

During a tour in Aqaba district, Dr. Mashaqbeh disclosed the ministry's plans to encourage income-generating propresent policy of paying monthly stipends to needy The minister said cash assistance is provided to some 25,000 families, adding that the ministry has granted 1,200 loans to needy families to set up income-generating projects. He pointed out that the ministry grants loans of JD 1,000 to JD 3,000 to people eligible to receive help.

Such loans are interest-free and are payable over a period of 8 years, Dr. Mashaqbeh explained. He called on people to rely on themselves and to set up projects capable of ensuring sufficient income for their families. The minister's tour took him to Wadi Araba, Risheh and

THE ROYAL Scientific Society (RSS) Research and Development Section of the Electronic Services and Training Centre recently designed and manufactured a new educational aid, named the Digital Logic Trainer. This device helps technical students specialised in computer science and electrical engineering under-stand digital logic circuits through experiments related to course material. Already 25 units of the device have been installed in the logic laboratory of the RSS Princess Sumaya University College for Technology. Yarmouk University also will provide its digital logic

WHAT'S GOING ON

The following listings are compiled from monthly bulletins and the daily Arabic press. Readers are advised to verify the listed time and place with the concerned institutions.

EXHIBITIONS

Art exhibition entitled "Fragments: Weavings and Works on Paper" by Kevin A. Hluch and Margaret M. Hluch at the American Centre.

★ Exhibition of paintings by Suha Katihah Noursi at the Spanish

Art exhibition by Patrice Pain at the French Cultural Centre

Jordan Times

Chairman of the Board of Directors:

MAHMOUD AL KAYED

Director General:

MOHAMMAD AMAD Editor-in-Chief:

GEORGE S. HAWATMEH

Editorial and advertising offices: Jordan Press Foundation, University Road, P.O. Box 6710, Amman, Jordan.

Telephones: 667171/6, 670141-4 Telex: 21497 ALRAI JO Facsimile: 661242

The Jordan Times is published daily except Fridays. Subscription and advertising rates are available from the Jordan Times advertising department.

Bolder initiatives needed

THE PALESTINIANS' draft of a "declaration of principles" to their talks with their Israeli counterpart and Palestinian insistence that final status negotiations should start in October next year point to the urgency they attach to the talks producing early and satisfactory results. Both time and circumstances can frustrate the Palestinian and Arab quest for permanent and just peace. Mainstream Arabs, Palestinians and Israelis pin much hope on the talks bearing fruit or achieving progress in a relatively short time. But radicals on both sides are betting on the failure of the

The frustration on the Palestinian side is both strong and justified. The whole population of the West Bank and Gaza has so far been under Israeli siege since the end of March. More Palestinians were killed in the last four months than in the whole of 1992. Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin's policies on coexistence and his declared intention to exchange land for peace are increasingly coming under attack by Israeli rightists. The cautious optimism of October 1991 when the Madrid talks started and the glimmer of hope usbered in by Labour's win in Israeli elections in June 1992 have by now evaporated, especially in Palestinian minds and hearts.

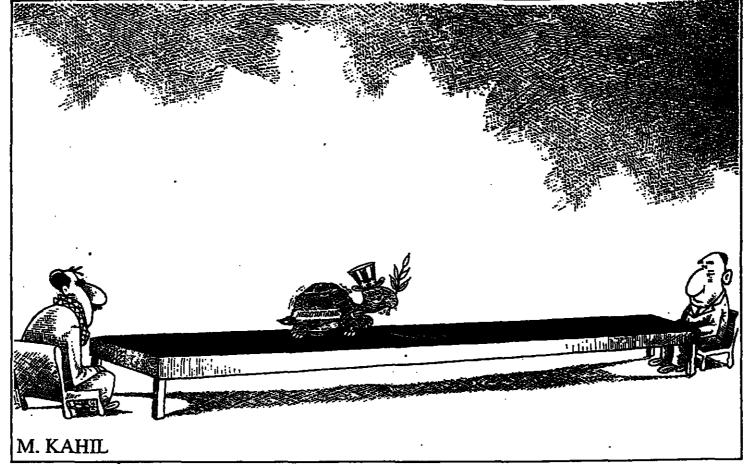

From the drafts exchanged by both Israelis and Palestinians and the pressures that each party endures from its own constituency, it is clear that their two positions are still far apart on some very important issues. And while that is the situation on the Palestinian-Israeli track, some progress has been achieved on the other tracks. Syrian and Israeli declarations and statements over the terms of peace between them indicate that the two countries are ching towards peace. Yet the Arabs acknowledge and repeat that the core of any peace settlement is a solution to the Palestine question first and foremost. Unless all aspects of the Palestinian issue are resolved based on U.N. resolutions, international legitimacy and respect for national rights the whole region will continue to be volatile and dangerous.

It therefore becomes imperative that the negotiating parties, including the co-sponsors, revise their approach to the conflict. Instead of tackling it as one composed of separate conflicts between each Arab party on the one hand and Israel on the other, the problem can for instance be treated as one between Arabs and Israelis. If Arabs cannot make peace with Israel until the Palestinian issue is resolved first and if Israel seeks peace with the Arabs and the Palestinians. then a comprehensive deal must be worked out between the two sides. Such a deal would enable the Arabs to get back their occupied lands and rights while giving Israel the peace it seeks. A comprehensive deal, not separate ones, would even be more satisfying if endorsed by the Arabs both individually and collec-

ARABIC PRESS COMMENTARIES

AL DUSTOUR daily dwelt on the Jordanian-Palestinian joint action vis-a-vis developments in the region and in confrontation with Israeli defiance and repression. Referring to an address given by King Hussein to a group of senior officers in the Palestine Liberation Army in Jordan, the paper said that the Jordanians and the Palestinians seek peace based on justice, as the King has said, but they want a peace that can be acceptable to the future generations. The Jordanians and Palestinians, as the King reiterated, form one family and are closing ranks in the face of common challenges and in confrontation with injustice and repression added the paper. King Hussein stressed to the Palestine army officers the importance, for the Jordanian and Palestinian people, to remain steadfast in the fact of Israel's. occupation and help each other in this time of adversity because they together face a common danger and no doubt they have a common destiny, the paper pointed out. The paper stressed the King's words that the Jordanian people will continue to provide all possible backing to the Palestinians to regain their rights, noting that perseverance and diligence and closed ranks are now required more than at any time in the past.

MOHAMMAD SUBEIHI, a columnist in Al Dustour, voiced backing for the finance minister's quest to impose the sales tax in order to stem consumption and reduce spending in Jordan. Those who watched the minister defend the government's position during the television interview two nights ago are better informed now about the sales tax, which is still to be imposed in the country, the writer said. Those who oppose the tax, said the writer should realise that the Jordanian people must fast for years and abstain from consuming imported commodities so that their sountry can regain its economic and financial balance and pay its dues to the creditors. Without stringent economic measures, the Jordanians cannot conform with the requirements of the economic restructuring programme nor can they save enough to pay their dues to the world banks and governments added Subeihi. The finance minister ought to be supported in his drive to enable the country, particularly the rich, to pay off the debt and restore its normal economic situation; for this reason, the writer said, there is an urgent need for the government to issue legislation or a temporary law to impose the sales tax. He said that the government can later submit the sales tax draft law to Parliament for approval.

SURPRISE FROM UNEXPECTED QUARTERS

Group of American Jews opposes peace talks

By Donald Neff

WASHINGTON DC - A strange thing is happening on the way to peace in the Middle East. The shrillest and most suspicious opponents of Israel's policies are turning out not to be the Syrians or the Palestinians or western liberals but a group of American Jews. They are the former hardline supporters of Likud, and the rumpus they are raising is causing anxiety among U.S. officials and such discomfort in Israel as to make Yitzhak Rabin's government take extraordinary measures to justify the peace process to American Jews.

The actions have included the issuing by the Israeli embassy of a highly unusual paper defending Mr. Rabin's policies against a broadside attack by editor Norman Podhoretz of Commentary magazine, an influential publication of the American Jewish Committee. Podhoretz represents the neurotic right wing of Zionism, that group whose suspicions are so ingrained that they cannot take any good news at face value. Thus Podhoretz wrote in the April issue of Commentary what he called "A Statement on the Peace Process" in which he admitted that the popularity of Mr. Rabin's policies caused him profound anxiety:

"I cannot help suspecting that the enemies of Israel know something about these policies that the friends of Israel are failing to see. I will go further and assert flat out that if those policies are meeting with so much approval in certain quarters, it must mean that they are not good for Israel."

The article, despite it pathological overtones, is causing tremendous ferment in the Jewish community. This was doubly so since it not only reinforced pre-. dictable fears that Israel was embarked on a perilous course, but also because of the background of the author. Podhoretz reason that Israel felt the need to had become known through the years of Likud rule for his stern dictum to American Jews: hold your criticism or move to Israel. Now here he was criticising in the very open manner he had abjured others to avoid and he had not moved to Israel to do it.

To make matters worse, two other influential right-wing Zionists, A.M. Rosenthal and William Safire, both columnists for the New York Times, also came out with blasts against pro-Rabin Jews, causing Labour Member of Knesset (MK) Ephraim Sueh to write to the Times that some American Jews were obstructing the peace process. He tartly noted: "They may not have experienced the horrors of war and the tough conditions of daily life in Israel...Hardline criticism from a distance of 6,000 miles will not change the situation."

Another Rabin supporter, Henry Siegman, executive director of the American Jewish Congress, complained to the Times:
"It is astounding how far these hardliners are prepared to go in challenging the credibility, and even the legitimacy, of Israel's current government for no better reason than to lessen their discomfort with their own outrageous inconsistencies."

The clamour was such that Israeli officials have been frantically circulating the community, trying to gain its support for the peace process. Ambassador Itamar Rabinovich has gone out of his way to hold at least one conference with important leaders to explain in detail Israel's negotiating tactics, and he and other Israeli officials have been holding face-to-face meetings with leaders of various Jewish organisations. More telling, the Israeli embassy paper justifying Mr. Rabin's policies specifically set the record straight in the U.S.

Justifying Rabin

The paper, titled "The Peace Imperative", went back to the roots of Zionism to justify Mr. Rabin. It noted that early Zionists "envisaged a Jew in harmony with himself, the soil, and his neighbours, both Jewish and Arab." War had prevented this development, but now, the paper said, "the current peace process has created a new chance for future generations to pursue the ideas which lie at the heart of

According to the paper, the reasons Israel is willing to pay "a painful price for peace" include a potentially more dangerous security environment, the growth of Islamic fundamentalism, changes in Syria's attitude and the debilitating costs of the occupation. In strategic terms, a major goal of achieving peace with Syria is to prevent a reborn "Eastern Front" in which Syria and Iran would fight Israel together. Thus "an Israeli withdrawal to secure and recognised borders on the Golan Heights would be an acceptable price to pay to remove Syria from the strategic equation and, through economic incentives, persuade it to refrain from considering a military option." A peace agreement would also give the kind of stability to the region that could stem the growth of fundamentalism.

As for the Palestinians, the occupation had distracted Israelis from pressing domestic problems and "has placed a very large number of Israelis in the unenviable and distasteful role of 'policeman', regulating the lives of the Palestinians.... If the peace process falters, Israel may find itself inexorably bound to a status tional.

quo of knives, bullets and blood-

The paper concluded: "Israel harbours no illusions that the Arabs have suddenly acquired a fondness for their Jewish neighbour. In time; however, they may come to accept an ongoing de-velopment of peaceful relations that would ease their economic and demographic difficulties. This would not only defeat Islamic radicalism, it would also let Israelis get back to the task of creating the new Jew the founders dreamed about."

Washington's view

This analysis, besides the explication of Zionist theory, matches almost exactly Washington's reading of the current strategic situation in the Middle East. It represents an awareness that factors may never again be as favourable for Israel. This includes establishing itself peacefully among its neighbours and at the same time deterring creation of a threatening "Syrian-Iranian Eastern Front" and the growth of Islamic fundamentalism.

From Israel's view, the timing especially propitious because there is in America an administration and a Congress that would be willing to pay a very high price in terms of economic aid to the Palestinians and Syrians for their cooperation.

From Washington's view, the matter is urgent. As the current contretemps in the Jewish com-munity illustrates, an energised community opposed to the peace process could exert tremendous pressure. In Washington's view, if a resurgent Likud, allied with rabid support in the U.S., returns to power then any chance that Israel will be willing to make the kind of even minimal concessions necessary for peace will certainly be lost - Middle East Interna-

men on North Atlantic Treaty Organisation (NATO) radar planes enforcing a no-fly zone

But at the same time Mr. Kinkel's party filed a doomed suit in the supreme court against Mr. Kohl's Christian Democrats (CDU) after they outvoted him in the cabinet — a manoeuvre widely panned as a show of political SPD critics were especially tough on Mr. Kinkel, saying he was letting Defence Minister Volker Ruehe "remilitarise" German foreign policy despite his pledge to continue Genscher's tireless efforts to solve crises

Mr. Kinkel also won only weak applause for some of his other initiatives, such as smoothing post-Gulf war relations with Turkey and Israel or showing Bonn's rejection of racist violence by attending the funeral of three murdered Turks or the opening of the Holocaust Museum in

In his Actionce, supporters say mr. Kinkel in faced with an unstable world in which the tools the popular and highly successful Genscher used - East-West detente, multilateral diplomacy and clever but toothless statements either no longer exist or have lost their credibility.

'Kinkel's problem has been that he had to end the era of Genscherism without anyone noticing," Bonn's General-Anzeiger newspaper wrote.

THE WEEK IN PRINT

Press praises government's performance, achievements

Reviewed by Lou Nasrallah

Issues of domestic nature, Ir: .: and the Middle East peace process were given the wide: coverage in the local press in the past week.

Prime Minister Sharif Zeid Ben Shaker's government was praised by the columnists in the local press for its achievements, countering an attack by economist Fahd A! Fanck on the government in the past week for its delay in imposing the sales tax and in introducing amendments to the present election law.

The present government, headed by Sharif Zeid, should be credited for passing the political parties law, the laws on the Higher Security Court and the press and publications, and the general amnesty law among others, said Tareq Masarweh, a columnist in Al Ra'i daily. Indeed, these laws can only enhance the democratisation process in the country and open the door for other measures towards further progress and more achievements in the political and economic fields, said the writer. The prime minister, in his drive to manifest his adherence to democracy, has allowed Cabinet members to take their own decisions at a time when he was in a position to reject outright any step and oppose any move, said Masarweh. The writer said he wished that Sharif Zeid would form yet another cabinet after some ministers' resignation to run for elections.

Another columnist in Al. Ra'i daily stressed the fact that the government of Sharif Zeid could by no means create miracles but what it has done so far was great and unprecedented towards enabling the country to attain democracy, the columnist, writing under the pseudonym "an economist," said that contrary to what Fanch had said, the present government proved to be totally committed to the economic restructuring programme, agreed upon with the Interna-tional Monetary Fund (IMF), but that it was taking time before imposing the sales tax law due to other pressing issues. We denounce any criticism of the government which does not contribute towards enhancing freedom and the principles of democracy and which does not contribute to the higher national interests, said the writer.

Another columnist, writing under "concerned citizen," said that Fanck was unjust in accusing the government of lacking the will power to impose the sales tax. If we review the achievements and the activities of the present government, said the writer, we find that it has accomplished in a short time more than any other previous government, especially with regard to political pluralism, economic stability and social affairs, in addition to its stand with regard to the peace negotiations.

Taher Al Udwan, a col-umnist in Al Dustour, charged that Jordanian women do not yet wish to involve themselves in political parties or to run in force in the coming parliamentary elections. The writer said that women constitute half of the number of university students and many of the Jordanian public and private institutions, but they do not wish to go to Parliament nor do they want to join women unions where they can organise their political activities.

He expressed hope that the coming elections in November will see women elected in Parliament.

Dwelling on women's involvement in the coming elections, Huda Fakhouri, a colmmnist in Al Ra'i, demanded that the coming Parliament be made by law, to include women and that at least women should acquire 10 per cent of the total number of seats.

To help achieve this and enable women's voice to be heard, she said, the government ought to introduce an amendment to the election law as soon as possible to provide for such changes.

Mona Shuqair, a columnist in Al Dustour, said that the one-man-one-vote system could only succeed in dismantling the present parliamentary blocs, but would not work against the interests of the Islamists or the tribal system. The writer urged the government to take time and discuss thoroughly any amendment to the present election law with a view to giving fair treatment to all the political groups. A columnist in Sawt Al which tackled the pres tendency on the part of both and women to shun mar-The Mustafa Jamal said ther his rowing tendency in the ford man society is mainly due to the high cost of wedding the awai traditions demand, the rising cost of living poverty and unemployment and the high price a bridegroom has to pay as "mahr" or dowry. Jamal said that such & tendency was bound to create social and moral imbalances, crimes and other social ills.

A columnist in Sawt Al Shaab daily said that whole districts and population settlements still lack telephone services, creating many difficulties for Jordanian citizens. Ahmad Dabbas said that the Telecommunications Corporation (TCC) is to be commended for its past achievements, but one can only note that the public demands for this basic service should be given priority and should be heard.

He also aired complaints by many citizens who find their telephone bills far bigger than usual, blaming not the computers for issuing the bills but employees feeding these computers.

A columnist in Al Dustour tackled traffic congestions in Amman during the summer, noting that the number of cars and pedestrians is increasing in the hot season, creating a very uncomfortable atmosphere for

Mohammad Daoud said that the Traffic Department bears responsibility for such congestions since it can and must introduce measures to ensure the smooth flow of traffic and appoint able and skilled men for the job. He also said that the pedestrians must be made to strictly adhere to traffic regulations to ensure safety on the Turning to the Middle East peace process, a columnist in Al Ra'i daily said that contrary to what has been said about the neace process, the ninth round did not end in failure.

Sultan Hattab said that proof for this is the fact that the U.S. is now paving the ground for the 10th round. It should be noted, he said, that negotiations over important issues take a longer time than previously predicted and that the Arab parties realise this fact and will be going to the 10th round soon.

Hamadeh Faraaneh, a columnist in Al Dustour, said that the intifada should be intensified while the peace negotiations continue with Israel.

The writer said that the Israelis will continue to prevaricate and the Jewish settlers will continue to escalate their attacks on the Arabs, but the Palestinians have no alternative but to counter violence with violence, regardless of the peace negotiations among Mohammad Kawash said in Al Dustour that the United States deceived the Arab parties into believing that it would play the role of full partner and help the two sides to attain a solution.

The columnist said that the ninth session was a fiasco since the Israelis did not budge from their stand with regard to the Palestinian human rights and settlement programmes nor about the repatriation of the expellees. Salameh Ekour, a columnist.

in Sawt Al Shaab, said that the Arab foreign ministers should decide now whether their countries should continue their participation in the peace negotia-, tions which have proved futile. The writer said that the Clinton administration has disappointed the Arab parties and the Arab masses, including the Palestinians, since it failed to force Israel to implement U.N. Security Council Resolution 799; it hasn't succeeded either in convincing Israel to abide the resolutions 242 and 338. The ninth session ended with no results due to the U.S. failure to live up to its promises, said the writer.

The Arab parties went to the ninth round of talks with Israel assured by the U.S. that Washington will play a positive role this time, said Abdullah Al Khatib, a columnist in Al Dustour. Now that the dust has settled, the Arabs should realise that the Americans canunder no circumstances." change their biased attitude. and that they will never sorve as fair mediators. The writer said that the Americans will no doubt lose their credibility now, but the Israelis should realise that the so called new world order cannot be imposed by force, cited Podhoretz's article as the Kinkel finds Genscher hard act to follow

BONN — After one year as Germany's foreign minister, Klaus Kinkel has learned it is easier to step into a predecessor's shoes than forge ahead in his footsteps.

The trick is even harder if, as in Mr. Kinkel's case, the shoes belonged to one of the West's willest and longest-serving diplomats, Hans-Dietrich Genscher. Worse still, Genscher's second shoe — bis role as chairman of the Free Democratic Party (FDP) could soon start to slow Mr. Kinkel down or even trip him up. "I'm no fairy tale prince and no circus strongman," Mr. Kinkel, 56, said in one of several slightly apologetic interviews to mark his first anniversary in office

"You have to live with me as I am, with my strengths and my weaknesses. I've never made any secret of my weaknesses."

Mr. Kinkel's sudden shift to the front line last year from several second-level jobs — including heading Bonn's BND intelligence service and long years of service in the Justice Ministry - has taken its toll on the model bureaucrat.

Lacking Genscher's sure feel for politics and the media, he has found himself pushed into policy corners he hoped to avoid and embarrassed by statements he didn't have to make.

The tarnishing of his image as a cool and efficient Bonn insider

Klaus Kinkel

has prompted members of his small FDP party to ask if he can shoulder the extra strain of the party chairman's job he plans to take over next month. But the industrious lawyer keeps pushing on, climbing to the top of a party he joined only two years ago and that now has nobody else to lead it into crucial elections next year.

Mr. Kinkel's disarming openness was his first clear contrast to Genscher, who steered German foreign policy for 18 years with what a diplomat here once called "a mixture of Byzantine tactics, Delphic statements and Teutonic

But the novelty of his straight talking wore off when it became continuing war in former Yugoslavia and had no clear strategy for getting united Germany to live up its greater responsibilities.

Hans-Dietrich Genscher

"Kinkel is trying in vain to cover up his policy weaknesses with verbal muscle-flexing," charged Karsten Voigt, foreign policy spokeshian for the opposition Social Democrats (SPD).

His star fell further this year when he was caught between his own wish to go along with Chan-cellor Helmut Kohl to expand Germany's military role abroad and his party's belief the post-war constitution had to be amended to allow this.

After "heavy bellyaches," as he put it, Mr. Kinkel agreed to a bizarre compromise: Mr. Kohl was allowed to send German air-

Nuclear threat still looms large

By Henry Brant

· MAY 22, 1993

ment's

ements

in the present of both man to shun man and the intervent of wedness the control of wedding the control demand, the control demand demand, the control demand demand, the control demand deman

in the powers and that that and it has been been also been also in at such a found to creat their social distribution of their social distribution of their social distribution of their social distribution of their social distributions of their social and that whole leopulation settle

tack telephone seri

on content Ahmai d that the Telecomwe Carbotalion 'c commended to neverments, but one in this basic senie ewen priority and arred complaints by one who find their indis far bigger tha nny not the compathe bills but tecding these conunst in Al Duston धीं congestions । हिंद ring the summe, the number of cas Soft, Citating a ven dele atmosphere to and Daoud said the Department bear the such congs et can and mes in ours to ensur The of traffic and and skilled me. His also said the outs must be mae elicità to traffic m COMMONITORY on the 1 Middle En ress. a columnist a at that contra in consulation the

and the moth rough

Harrist and the and the fact the men paring the

the following b oreside her said, that

Communities

. Longer time the

....active and the realise the ीय कामान्यु कि कि

s. Estamoh, a at

A Transcort and the

is should be intere

the prince negotia

... Sand that 🕏

्रा महा रिकाली स्थाप्ति

age to escalate ther

the Auto, but the

have no shere

- Crapilles of the

Andrew American

Court Named and E

that if well

ell pattner at des to attain-

....... The thri the

the court is a second hudee from

..... ichad to tk

nichts and

Tability Br

mattern of the

a sandra a corporatio

Start and that the

a whether their cour ni ratinut their per

in the bear neguin

photod took that the Cle and the de

The battles in escluding the

tell Resultation of the last tell results of the last tell results for the last tell results from the

Complete the Parties

the transfer went to the control to that the United s of the Arab pa

p country volent managed to pre-

with brack

4.840

o en tadure.

ic fit will prize to but dl_{ah}

MOSCOW — "Ours is a terrible legacy," said Viktor Fetisov of the Mayak plutonium production plant, or "Chelyabinsk-65," lo-cated in the southern Urals. "We had to pay too dearly for plutonium," he said of the radioactive pollution and nuclear waste generated by the plant. Pollution from his plant alone is, he says, the equivalent of "20 Cher-nobyls."

Mr. Fetisov has told a Moscow magazine there are 83 square kilometres of radioactive reservoirs, a contaminated river system and a lake filled with highly radioactive water in the area. By admission of all concerned, it is an ecological disaster zone." That part of the southern Urals is one of many such zones that Russia, Ukraine and other heirs to the former Soviet Union have to deal with. The best-known is Chernobyl, site of the 1986 reactor accident that spewed radioactive dust over Europe, also reaching Asia, the Middle East and America, according to scien-

With Russia's recent decision to embark on a new building programme of nuclear plants — 30 are planned — neighbouring countries and local residents have expressed concern that the government is not heeding the bitter legacy of the USSR's nuclear programme. Safety standards remain a major problem, they say. Last year there were 205 safetyrelated incidents. None were serious, but this is a 20 per cent increase in accidents over 1991. Moscow officials say safety is a priority, but the need to keep obsolete and unsafe plants on line to produce energy has slowed progress on this "priority task."

Meanwhile, leading industrial. nations are setting up a $700 million fund to improve safety at Soviet-built reactors in Eastern Europe. It's true that the Russians have made some progress, a western expert commented, but nobody in the West would say that these plants are safe, he Recently, demands for more energy led officials at Pivdennoukrainsk nuclear power plant near Odessa to turn off safety systems to boost energy output. The Ukrainian Atomic Energy Safety Commission has told them not to do it again because there are enough problems dealing with the aftermath of Chernobyl.

A plan to build an atomic power station near the Mayak plant that could burn plutonium as fuel and use radioactive water as a coolant has met with opposi-tion from local citizens and ecology groups. The threat of further pollution and accidents if such a plant is built in this earthquakeprone area is very high, say activ-

Chernobyl continues to haunt Russia and Ukraine. A series of fires at the remaining Chernobyl reactors in January revived fears of further contamination. The fires were put out promptly, and no significant radiation was released. Reports of massive cracks in the cement sarcophagus that covers the melted-down reactor core have also revived fears. Officials in Kiev promised to shut down Chernobyl completely but they now say it would lead to "total paralysis" of industry which needs the electricity.

The Ministry on Protection of the Population From the Consequences of the Catastrophe at the Chemobyl Atomic Power Station constantly monitors the area. Whole villages around Chernobyl are still being evacuated when new instances of radiation poisoning are found. Ukrainian officials say 8,000 people have died from the effects of the accident and as many as 3 million more will need treatment over the next 20 years. In January, the ministry recommended the re-moval of 10,000 additional families from the contaminated zone. At least 300 million rubles will be needed in 1993 to compensate victims of Chernobyl and of other past instances of nuclear pollution, according to Vasily Voznik, Russia's special minister for such affairs. Compensation for personal loss is paid by the government, and the bills get higher each year.

It is ironic that even though the threat of a nuclear war has been reduced in the post-cold war era, the danger of a nuclear accident has increased. Mr. Fetisov says that he is working with officials from Moscow to try to find a way to clean up or at least to limit the damage done in the past 40 years by the Mayak plant, which produced weapons-grade plutonium for the Soviet nuclear bomb programme. Plutonium production at the Mayak plant was always done in a state of "feverish haste," one official said. It is the largest of 10 "secret cities," where the Soviet strategic weapons programme was conducted. Safety and the effect on the environment were not considered, which is one reason why the area is considered the earth's most radiationpolluted region. All five reactors that were used to produce the plutonium have been shut down.

The international environmental group Greenpeace says underwater wastes are also an "ecological time bomb." Russia and other former Soviet republics At the same time, however, an agree. They have to deal with nuclear reactors from sunken Soviet warships and untold amounts of nuclear waste dumped in Arctic waters., According to a senior scientist at the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, the amount of nuclear material within some of the Soviet sunken submarines is seven times that of the Chernobyl reactor. Moscow is also discussing plans to seal the wreckage of the nuclear submarine Komsomolets, whose reactor and nuclear warheads are leaking radioactivity on the ocean floor off Norway, where the vessel sank in April 1989.

Karachi Lake, which was used as a dumping ground for Mayak's nuclear waste, is being filled with underground reservoir of radioactive water has been found. The Group of Seven (G-7) industrialised countries are helping to finance some of the cleanup in Russia and, by providing money to upgrade safety at existing reactors, hope to limit damage. A $75 million fund was established in Paris on Jan. 27.

former Soviet Union. A proposed budget of $100 to $200 million from the international group will help, but Russian officials say they need nearly $700 million over the next five years to keep 28 reactor operating safely. Eleven of them are built on the same model as Chernobyl's -World News Link.

Japan is also providing funds to train nuclear engineers from the Considered one of the safest designs, the nuclear reactor at Seabrook, New Hamsphire (U.S.), is housed inside a containment building with double walls providing 5.9 feet (2 metres) of steel and concrete shielding (WNL

one at Chernobyl (identified by arrow) that spewed radioactive dust over Europe in 1986, with pollution later reaching the Arab World, Asia and America (WNL photo)

al nuclear blasts leave timebomb for Russia

By Fiona Fleck Reuter

MOSCOW - It seemed like the a small nuclear device 2,000 metres underground at a temper-/ ature of a million degrees. The rock evaporates creating a cavern lined with the molten residue.

"Some caverns were used to store gas condensate," said Boris Golubov, head of a Russian parliamentary group investigating the environmental consequences of 115 underground nuclear explosions conducted in the former Soviet Union.

"The gas workers could have done it another way - by building metal or concrete storage silos. But this seemed such a simple solution, much cheaper and above all - instantaneous." These were not the military conducted on Novaya Zemlya or field. in Semipalatinsk, in Kazakhstan, which have been well publicised. These were "peaceful nuclear explosions" (PNEs), used for industrial purposes. Each had a code name and was so secret that people who lived or worked nearthe site had no idea about them.

Three years ago, Minatomenergo (the former Soviet Ministry of Nuclear Energy). which keeps all classified records on the nuclear industry, admitted that peaceful nuclear explosions had been carried out in the Soviet Union.

This was only after a group of geologists, including Mr. Goluboy who had guessed what was going on, demanded explanations for abnormalities in the earth experiments with nuclear devices. structure in the Astrakhan gas > map showing 115 peaceful nuclear blasts had taken place all over the former Soviet Union (84 were in Russia) from 1964 to

These were conducted in Ukraine, western Siberia, the lower Volga, Yakutia, Krasnoyarsk region, the far north, outside Moscow and the Donbass to extract mineral deposits. About half were in virtually all the main Soviet gas and oil fields. According to a new publication on the Soviet nuclear industry,

"the declassified atom", another 39 were used by the Ministry of Geology for seismological experiindustrial experts to assess the extent of radioactive contamination and its effect on the environment and the health of the population.

The explosions were ordered by 11 different ministries. Each needed permission from the top echelons of Soviet power — the central committee of the Communist Party — which signed a special "resolution" for each ex-

The blasts were then carried out by "minsredmash", the ministry responsible for the Soviet atomic defence industry.

"In those days people thought the explosions were safe, they checked the radioactivity (on the surface) and seismic situation and found everything was fine," said Mr. Golubov.

their homes," he said. "They thought the underground caverns were hermetically sealed and would always retain their form. But two to 10 years later they began to deform and radioactive contamination started to seep to the surface and has been spreading ever since." Mr. Golubov's group is focus ing on in the Astrakhan gas field in southern Russia where 15 explosives were set off between 1980 and 1984.

Two or three of these caverns started filling with water which has risen to the surface. The ground water is polluted by the gas works and the Caspian Sea is rising gradually, flooding the whole region.

"If these waters meet and the sea becomes contaminated ...we

"They told the people who could have a large-scale ecologic-The Russian parliament's Ecology Committee set up an inquiry into PNEs, inviting scientific and industrial analysis abandon their homes saying there would be a said Mr. Golubov who worked in mild earthquake and paid for the shattered windows and damage to industrial analysis and the area as a geologist since the shattered windows and damage to industrial analysis.

Western companies, interested in developing some of these gas and oil fields, are seeking advice from nuclear consultants about the consequences of previous peaceful atomic explosions. 'Some companies have come a cropper because they weren't fully informed about the previous use of sites they want to de-velop," said John Large, a consulting nuclear engineer based in

"It's a pretty ill-defined and messy situation in the former Soviet Union," he said. "Very little data is available about these explosions. We need to send western experts in to check the scale of the problem." The most uncertain area is where explosions were close to the surface to create dams and open-cast mining, he said, and where doses of radiation are probably most dangerous. Although the former Soviet Union and the United States signed an agreement in 1990 to ban all kinds of nuclear explosions, experts in Russia are concerned this could change. "We have such a dangerous situation of overt illegality in the country," said Mr. Golubov. "Anything is possible."

toxic waste, chemical and nuclear

Last year Chetek, a joint ven-ture with a branch in Hamburg, applied for permission to destroy tremely high temperatures with peaceful nuclear devices on Novaya Zemlya. "There was an experts, when the project was weapons by blasting them at ex-proposed. It was a crazy business idea," said Mr. Golubov. "I don't think it is going ahead now but the situation could change and in theory projects like this could receive permission."

The last peaceful nuclear explosion was conducted in 1987. Today, despite the moratorium, they are not illegal. "To get permission to carry them out would mean top level approval - as high as the Russian president," said Dmitry Litvinov of the Moscow office of the environmentalist group Green-peace. "In theory it's possible,"

Ethnic cleansing between lifelong friends

By John Daniszewski The Associated Press

MOSTAR, Bosnia-Herzegovina -- In a darkened apartment two blocks from the roaring guns of the front line, two youths — a Croat in uniform, a Muslim in civilian dress - speak of their lifelong friendship. But should the order come down to evict all Muslims from the building, "I'd have to do that," said the Croatian soldier. 18-year-old Gozan.

His friend Dzenan, also 18, gives a wan smile akin to under-

Gozan, who is afraid to give his last name, knows what he's talk-On May 9, the day U.N. officials said Bosnian Croat forces attacked Muslim-led Bosnian troops in this city, Gozan participated in the dawn roundup and detention of nearly 2,000 Muslim civilians in the western half of Mostar_

"It was my duty. I didn't hit or beat them, I just followed the order," Gozan, who had a 9MM Manser pistol stuck in his belt, recalled Sunday over the din of machinegun fire from a nearby

Croat position. Even after more than one week of savage fighting in Mostar between formerly affied Croat and Muslim-led government forces, it's easy to find people like Gozan and Dzenan, helplessly caught up in the whirlwind.

Natives of Mostar, they had no problem coexisting. But when the Bosnian Croat military decreed that Muslims be moved out, they say there was no way to resist.

Gozan blamed the viciousness of the fighting and the Muslim roundups in part on Croat sol-diers imported from the countryside, where the population is majority Croat and heavily nationalist.

They are extremely racist because they have never met any Muslim," Gozan said of his fellow Croat soldiers. "These guys are like American street gangs. They are in it for fun and for robbery. They know they can steal videotape players from (Muslim) apartments."

The Croat forces appear bent on making Mostar a predominantly Croat city. Under an international peace plan, dividing Bosnia into 10 semi-autonomous provinces, Mostar would be capital of a Croat-dominated pro-

There is widespread suspicion that the Bosnian Croats have turned on their nominal Muslim allies with visions of annexing this southwestern region of Bosnia-Herzegovina to neighbouring

Most of the Muslims detained early last week were first held in a of the city. soccer stadium, then moved to a former military prison near the airport south of town. The Red Cross has been trying to register them and secure their release but Malaysia, which was welcoming other Muslims are being held at unknown sites.

Croat officers say the Muslims were removed from war zones for their own safety and will be allowed to return. But international aid officials say they have indications that Muslims are being driven from their homes in what could be a new wave of "ethnic cleansing" by Croats — parallel to the persecution of Muslims by Serbs. On Saturday, 22 Muslims were ordered out of their apartments and 240 Muslim refugees were evicted from the retirement home where they lived since last year, said a senior western refugee official who demanded anony-

This is the one thing we saw. Who knows what else is happenthe official said.

Dzenan was overlooked in the first wave of detentions. He hasn't dared go outside since for fear of being taken by a Croat

Gozan and Dzenan grew up together on the other side of the Neretva River, which flows through Mostar. When their houses were burned a year ago by Serb forces, their families wound up in the same neighbourhood of the now Croat-controlled section Gozan visits Dzenan when his army duties allow.

A few months ago, they had hoped to emigrate together to refugee officials suspect that Bosnian Muslim refugees.

RECRUITMENT OF PERSONNEL

 We are looking for our project in Aqaba for a person to assist one of our expatriate engineers in the preparation, modification, control of the detailed work schedules and other documents on the computer, using sofwares PSN 4 and

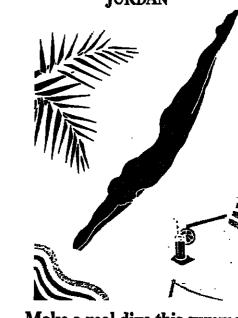

The period of employment would be approximately 6 months from now on.

- Profile of the person we are looking for:
- Age: 20 to 40
- Sex: Male or female
- University degree in engineering or technology
- Experience in the use of IBM compatible computers with different softwares, in particular spreadsheets.
- Fluent in English language
 - Please send Curriculum Vitae to:

Bouygues Coppee Lavalin P.O. Box 1669 Agaba Tel.: (03) 317115 Fax.: (03) 317116

To the attention of Mr. Charles Achard Administrative & Financial Manager

HOTEL INTER-CONTINENTAL JORDAN

Make a real dive this summer!

Our pool season started on the 15th of May, So if you intend to have a different summer in 1993, this is your chance... Apply for your membership and experience the ultimate relaxation & 'fun under the sun' at our pool.

for membership applications and more information: 641361 / ext. 2103

Japan rejects targets for slashing trade surplus

TOKYO (R) — Japanese officials emphatically rejected Friday a possible U.S. plan to set targets and timetables for slashing Tckyo's trade surplus and challenged Washington to come up with its own measures to cut the

"If we set a specific target for the current account surplus, it would lead to a move towards managed trade. I don't think it is appropriate," Economic Planning Agency (EPA) Minister Hajime Funada told a news confer-

U.S. President Bill Clinton is mulling an ambitious new plan to put pressure on to Japan to cut its trade surplus.

· American officials familiar with the blueprint said it calls for Japan to slash the surplus in its current account - a wide measure of trade covering goods and services — over three years, just in time for the next U.S. election.

Some said the administration wants to see Japan's surplus as a proportion of gross domestic product (GDP) halved over the nextthree years and its manufactured imports rise to the equivalent of four per cent of GDP from three per cent now.

But Japan's Finance Minister Yoshiro Hayashi said Friday a current account imbalance was mainly a problem for countries like the United States that have deficits.

While Japan should consider global political implications of its growing surplus, the United States must come up with its own measures to cut the deficit, Mr.

Ministry of International Trade and Industry (MITI) Minister Yoshiro Mori told reporters he was opposed to "results-oriented" trade policies — the core of Mr. Clinton's new tradepolicy towards Japan - and reiected the notion that a strong ven should be a tool in cutting the trade imbalance.

"Trying to correct trade imbalances with a strong yen alone is very, very difficult and the United States is beginning to understand that," Mr. Mori said.

Japanese officials and many private economists say the strong yen will initially cause Japan's trade surplus to rise because it inflates the dollar value of its trade deficit rose to the highest Japanese exports even though volume may be growing more slowly or even falling.

The cabinet ministers' comments coincided with the release of MITT's annual trade white paper, in which Tokyo once again outlined its objections to trade target-setting.

"Japan has to say no to managed trade," one of the paper's authors told reporters ahead of its release Friday morning.

"We believe it is grossly over-simplistic to see trade imbalance as 'evil' and caused solely by the existence of 'closed' markets," the report said.

Controversy over Japan's trade surplus has ballooned with its size. Washington said Wednesday level in four years in March accounting for 52 per cent of the red ink. Earlier this month Japan said its global surplus in its current account of balance of payments rose to $136 billion in the 1992/93 fiscal year that ended in March this year, up from $70 billion in 1990/91.

"The claim that the trade surplus itself is detrimental to world economic welfare can easily lead to managed trade, result-oriented protectionism, and an increase in barriers to the free flow of goods, services and finance," the annual MIII report said.

The MITI white paper said recent gains in Japan's trade sur-tors, and that long-term macroeconomic factors tended to shrink the surplus.

The second secon

Japan should however, take steps such as increasing the transparency of Japan's "keiretsu" industrial groupings and improving national treatment of foreign

But, together with a MITI report last week that rapped the United States and others for alleged unfair trade practices, the white paper took the offensive against foreign critics and U.S. efforts to set targets to measure market access improvements.

The report maintained that Japan's exports of car parts, for example, forced foreign industries to be more competitive.

exploits Maastricht vote Denmark quickly

COPENHAGEN (R) — Denmark has swiftly exploited a referendum vote in favour of the Maastricht treaty that ended a year of economic uncertainty, cutting interest rates, announcing tax breaks and outlining a new growth package. The Danish central bank cut its long-term discount and key deposit rates by one points to 8.25 per cent and its two-week rate by point to 8.75 per cent. It said the 56.8-43.2 per cent "yes" vote in Tuesday's referendum, reversing last June's narrow Danish rejection of the treaty on political, economic and monetary union, had made the rate cuts

In a speech to parliament entitled "a new course towards better labour market designed to ease times," Prime Minister Poul Nyrup Rasmussen unveiled substantial income tax cuts.

"We now have the flexibility to do more in Denmark to break the vicious circle of unemployment.

Mr. Rasmussen, a Social Democrat at the head a fourparty majority government, said the tax reform would cut the top and bottom marginal income tax rates to 58 and 38 per cent respectively from the current 68 per cent and 52 per cent, over a

The package, which has to be approved by parliament, also proposed bringing forward public infrastructure investments and the creation of new jobs.

Danish unemployment is at a record 12 per cent, or 336,000 workers, and is the dark spot in a generally sound economy which boasts annual inflation of one per cent and a solid balance of payments surplus.

The Danish Federation of Industries welcomed the "yes" vote, saying it would bring muchneeded calm and stability to the European Community and provide the opportunity to break the ever-rising unemployment curve.

"It will not happen tomorrow but we hope to see a turnaround next year. There will surely be an increased interest in investing in Denmark, both among Danish and foreign companies," said federation chairman Svend-Aage Nielsen.

Danish toy manufacturer Lego A/S said it would immediately resume construction of a 300 million crown ($50 million) factory which was mothballed after last

June's "no" vote. The Danish crown, under frequent devaluation pressure since the "no" vote, shrugged off the interest rate cuts which stripped it of some of its protection against speculators. Danish share and bond prices. which have gained sharply in recent months on expectations of "yes", opened higher but fell back on profit-taking.

But despite official euphoria

Maastricht, Mr. Rasmussen conceded that the next 12 months would be grim, with unemployment expected to reach 345,000. "Without a political effort we over the referendum approval for could expect even bigger unemployment in 1994, more than 360,000. We estimate the package will mean 40,000 less unemployed, giving us a chance to bring down unemployment to 320,000 next year," he said.

The growth plan immediately came under fire from opposition Liberal Party leader Uffe Ellemann-Jensen, who said it would increase the state budget deficit, dent the balance of payments surplus and fuel inflation.

the market. "car sales are pretty awful and they (the car-makers) will live as long as they can on a hand-to-mouth basis," the metal

There is little evidence that a market revival will begin soon. But the tightly balanced rhodium market's traditional price volatil-Only last week a temporary

"Markets in Japan, the United States and Europe have become saturated with major audiovisual products. At the same time, there is a lack of attractive large-scale products to activate the market and severe price competition. The management environment become more critical be of the yen's rapid gain," the company said in a statement.

JVC said worldwide sales of

JVC posts $220m loss

TOKYO (AFP) — Victor Co. of Japan Ltd. (JVC) has announced a consolidated pre-tax loss of 25.5 billion yen ($220 million) in the year to March, compared with losses of seven billion yen a year earlier.

The company, a subsidiary of Matsushita Electric Industrial Co. Ltd. and the country's leading manufacturer of video cassette recorders, also forecast a loss of 800 million yen in the current year, which would mean three consecutive years of losses.

Worldwide sales, which sagged eight per cent to 769 billion ven in the latest year, were expected to reach 780 billion yen in the current year.

JVC blamed its poor performance on "severe decreases in both domestic and overseas demand" accompanied by "mammoth foreign exchange losses due to the rapid appreciation of the yen."

The company, which also announced a group net loss of 43.1 billion yen, reversing the previous year's net profict of two billion yen, said it had decided to suspend its dividend for the year.

JVC noted that the Japanese electronics industry as a whole suffered a long-term drop in worldwide sales of audio equipment last year.

video equipment and related products plunged 23 per cent to 263 billion yen during the year while audio equipment sales were down five per cent at 143 billion yen. Sales of televisions dropped eight per cent to 116 billion yen.

The only bright spots were information equipment, where sales grew nine per cent to 95 billion yen, and entertainment, where revenue jumped 14 per cent to 152 billion yen.

Overseas sales came to 397 billion yen, or 52 per cent of total revenue, down from 471 billion ven the year before when the company's sales abroad amounted to 56 per cent of all turnover,

ECONOMIC NEWS IN BRIEF

Singapore remains world's busiest, top bunkering port

SINGAPORE (AFP) - Singapore's port continued to perform well last year registering the highest levels of shipping tonnage and supply of bunker fuel, the Port of Singapore Authority (PSA) has announced. Total seaborne cargo, including mineral orbinbulk, grew by 16 per cent over 1991, to hit 238,4 million toanes, PSA Chairman Lim Kim San said, in the group's 1997 annual report. The port registered $1,334 vessel calls and supplied 12.5 million tonnes of bunker, a residual fuel obtained from cracking crude petroleum, the report said. Container throughout grew 10 per cent to 7.56 million Twenty-foot Equivalent Units (IFUs), although Hong Kong overtook Singapore as top container port last July, Mr. Lim said. He said that the PSA's third container terminal, opened last year, was expected to handle upto 4.8 million TEUs when it reaches full capacity in 1944.

El Al to be privatised soon

NEW YORK (R) - El Al, Israel Airlines, will soon be sold to investors as part of Israel's effort to privatise state-owned industries, a top El Al official said Thursday. "Very shortly we will see El Al will be privatised." Leon Hasdai, the arthur's vice president and general manager for North and Central American operations, said in an interview. Financial investors in Israel and elsewhere have shown interest in El Al, Mr. Handar said, but he declined to reveal names. The Israeli government owns about 170 companies. El Al was launched in 1948 to provide a regular air link to Israel for immigrants and tourists, and the airline earned its early reputation by flying to far-flung destinations to bring Jewish immigrants to Israel. The airline's name in Hebrew means "to the sky," although Israelis used to translate it as "Every Landing Always Late." But the delays more often than not were because of the airline's security procedures. Last week the airline reported a net profit of $31.5 million for financial year 1992, its seventh profitable year in a row. Revenues rose seven per cent last year to $937.8 million. El Al has operated under receivership since 1982, with the court protection sought in the midst of crippling labour strikes. Investment bankers have advised the government to lift the receivership when it attempts to sell El Al

India, Israel to set up joint trade body

NEW DELHI (AFP) - The leading chambers of commerce of India and Israel have signed an agreement on setting up a joint business body to promote bilateral economic ties and streamline technology transfers. Officials said the proposed business council would seek to boost trade between the two countries and focus on tie-ups and technology exchanges. Israel was particularly keen to invest in the financial services sector, they added. India and Israel would work out a scheme to avoid double taxation and step up cooperation in scientific research, they elaborated. Two-way trade last year was about $200 million.

HOROSCOPE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY MAY 22, 1993 By Thomas S. Pierson, Astrologer, Carroll Righter Foundation

GENERAL TENDENCIES: By using your head and taking advan-tage of some beneficial surface ditions that are connected to the Moon sextile to Mars and Venus you can make significant progress and still keep on sche-

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19) You are tempted by a person or a condition to go off to some new site where you have an entire not the day to do so.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20) A day when you want to put in motion a new system for handling assets and/or liabilities but it is apt to have flaws not immediately visi-

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) You have a strong desire to tell off an outside associate but it would only lead to loss of an opportunity that could benefit you in the days

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) A day which is good to get into the weekend chores facing you and according to the proven methods you have utilised with them before this. LEO: (July 22 August 21) Think out what you like to do the most and then consider the cost and the various conditions you would have to do, then do it if you feel it

VIRGO: (August 22 to September 22) You would be wise to keep in mind that its necessary to really work at it to keep things smooth at your residence today and even more so tonight. LIBRA: (September 23 to October

22) If you have some problems in shopping, doing errands and usual Saturday pursuits, blame it on the planets and keep poised and use self-control. SCORPIO: (October 23 to November 21) You think you can handle a money or other practical matter now but there are some hidden or difficult factors not likely to be taken in account

SAGITTARIUS: (November 22 to December 21) You can be over-sure of yourself today or tonight and miss out where it counts the most so proceed more cautiously than is your natural way.

CAPRICORN: (December 22 to January 20) A day when there are a number of behind the scenes pressures that are troubling you but treat them in an objective manner and they are quickly

AQUARIUS: (January 21 to February 19) In following your gregarius pressues today, make sure you are selective and discriminating in those you decide you want to see and be with.

PISCES: (February 20 to March 20) There are certain public duties you have and that need to be done today but make sure that you do them in a well planned and organised fashion.

51 Concurdes 54 Necktine shap 55 Newspaper

Russia will extract less oil in 1993 MOSCOW (AP) - Russia will produce 350 million tonnes (2.569) billion barrels) of oil in 1993, Prime Minister Viktor Chernomyrdin has said. That is 12 per cent less than last year.

Mr. Chernomyrdin's forecast indicates that Russia's oil production is continuing to decline, despite the government's efforts to strengthen the critical petroleum industry, Russia's No. I source of foreign currency.

Last year, Russia extracted about 397 million tonnes (2.913

bers of the Union of Oil Producsupport the oil and natural gas sectors by providing them with a foreign currency credit line, the Interfax News Agency said.

The prime minister, who formerly headed Russia's stateowned natural gas industry, did not say how large the credit line would be. Officials previously have said that Russia needs billions of dollars to modernise its antiquated petroleum industry.

Steps have already been taken to create three major privately owned oil concerns in Siberia which eventually will account for approximately one third of the Russian oil market. The government also has announced plans to streamline taxation to attract foreign investments and step up investments in five-year period.

Rhodium left behind in precious metal boom precious metals have soared to their highest levels for months, little-known rhodium, the most expensive of them all, has been left in the doldrums.

A combination of increasing supplies from producers, lower demand due to world recession and hefty consumption of users' stocks in Japan led to a surplus over demand last year of 54,000 ounces, analysts say. That sent prices plunging from over $3,000 per ounce in March last year to $1,825 at the beginning of this year to under $1,000 an ounce now, around eight-year "Destocking from the car companies has met more metal from the producers. Prices overreacted on the way down," said keith

they had decided to a $10 to $20 fare hike on excursion trips that require a Saturday night stay.

Delta Airlines, which did not publicise its decision, quietly initiate the fare increases and has since been followed in some form

by most carriers. The new rates went into effect Wednesday night when a 35 per cent discount expired. Delta, American,

America West, Continental, Northwest and United raised by (Answers tomorrow

U.S. airlines

ATLANTA (AFP) — Major trip. flights and by $20 those U.S. airlines have announced more than 1,000 miles. Trans raise fares

gest refiner Johnson Matthey. "The (price) floor is difficult to say but we could be in for about 12-15 months of softer prices," Mr. Green said.

Like its better-known sister metals platinum and palladium. most of the world's rhodium is mined in South Africa and Russia but unlike them it is almost a one-use commodity. About 87 per cent of the supply goes into catalytic converters to control car-exhausts, particularly to eliminate oxides of nitrogen.

Rhodium prices reached a high of $7,350 an ounce in July, 1990, following inventory-building by Japanese and U.S. car makers compled with reports of production problems.

That year rhodium contributed the car-builders coming back into

World Airlines intends to raise all round-trip fares by $10 while USAir plans a $10 increase only on those more than 1,000 miles.

"It's still a little bit fluid because different carriers are acting different ways," said United spokesman Joe Hopkins. "We're going to continue to monitor the situation." Delta spokesman Neil

Monroe said the increases were his company's first since Decemabout 40 per cent of the South African miners' overall revenue. But last year, Johnson Matthey's Green estimated, rhodium accounted for no more than 15 per cent of the miners' income. "The producers started cracking up production last year to make up for a dreadful rhodium price," one London-based metal trader said. "The producers started cracking up production last year to make up for a dreadful rhodium price," one London-based metal trader said. At the same time demand fell to 324,000 ounces from 346,000 ounces largely accounted for by a drop in Japanese imports from 99,000 cunces to 61,000 cunces. There is no indication yet of

And a market upswing may bring back the car-makers. "They always say they do not buy on the way down. Only on the way up, but they haven't jumped yet," he

Romania needs 7m tonnes of crude oil this year

trader said.

ity is still evident.

an ounce from 750.

light shortage of rhodium to the market sent prices leaping to 975 ounces of tightness to take it up to 1,250," the trader said.

"It would just take a few more

BUCHAREST (R) - Romania will have to import more than three quarters of its crude oil this year due to shrinking domestic output, the industry ministry has

But it hopes to halt the decline later this year when a new offshore field comes on stream and to boost production through new exploration with foreign participation. "We need to import more than seven million tonnes of crude oil for our domestic needs this year," Cristian Istodorescu, head of the ministry's oil and gas department, told Reuters.

Romania's own output was 1.6 million tonnes in the first quarter of 1993, a slight 0.4 per cent drop from the first quarter of 1992, he Romania's domestic oil production has constantly shrunk over the past 20 years from peak production of around 14 million tonnes in the early 1970s, mainly due to the depletion of its tapped oil reserves.

But the country plans to end the decline this year, extracting some 6.7 million tonnes of crude compared with 6.6 million tonnes last year, Mr. Istodorescu said.

JUMBLE THAT SCRAMBLED WORD GAME by Henri Arnold Unscramble these four Jumbles, MUIBE HOCEK GALENT SOMETHING BESIDES THE TIDE WHICH THE MOON AFFECTS. BOYDUL Now arrange the circled letters to form the surprise answer, as sug-

Print answer here: THE

Jumbles: SWAMP TEMPO HEALTH PREFER Answer: What the restaurant on the moon lacked— ATMOSPHERE

ber and no additional ones were planned for the near future.

Peanuts

TO KEEP FROM GETTING WET, IT IS BEST TO CARRY AN UMBRELLA SIMILAR TO THIS ONE ...

Andy Capp

Mutt'n'Jeff

THE Daily Crossword by Don Johnson find 10 Conflict, in literature 14 Graceful horse 16 Old Norse poen 17 Tuning ite 19 Quechuar 20 Perched 21 Fencing sword 22 Dangling ornament 24 Secluded valley 25 Roll with a hole 26 Holy 29 Chat like FDR's 32 Morranger 34 Former singer Cole 35 Essence 36 Foyers 37 Taj Mahal site 1 aj manai site 38 Elev. 39 Bakery offering 40 Block of stamps 41 Aged 43 Theater stage 44 Splits 45 Smear 46 Gerns 48 Basehati ologo Yesterday's Puzzie Solved: character 12 Formerly 13 Actross Par 18 — of Troy 23 Grows old 49 Owns 52 So 53 Upsets 24 Sand 25 Football team 26 Heroic 56 First-rate 57 Come together 27 Nimble 28 Seek 29 Classified 30 Was brave 58 Assist in a crime 59 Freshwater fish 30 Was brave 31 "Les — Unis" 33 Conquers 36 Good-tooking 37 Moby Dick pursuer -39 Strobite 40 Dicta 40 Dute 42 Felt 43 Man at the plate 45 Sad song 46 Take the lead 47 Commandment

AMMAN FINANCIAL MARKET TELEPHONE: 660170 / 663170

detern proper and a will disciplinate man il authority I from the stan be and world is hal The trial to see . the five other by led in the alter the suspects do by now who the target. red attacks was one fold authors Mr Bush, the st

At Bush was in b . or whether the a ent to set off box ewast City to deep sestigators dud that Iraq was belt in hased largeh ; at the explosives ngged to expla ding Mr Bush sa if the type used: ist acts interviewed the g the past two sage aim was connec halget was Mr. Be Ticial.

erviews have bething that kee with the suspects of nuono — espezi the suspects plan Chlosines around rion lamself up 🕾 who in case the of to but its mark: white U.S. RE lest Iraq, open ated A internationale

thems are alread

need by the UV

1 100 its invasor

inational debamis have sugge asp targets sud A of Intelligence that the speed : with wide appr the civilian of his likely means two officials

tage rounday: nchard tee: count the lower Khow: Zhobic: hac boundary # Aliah section t Cathra of Lotte. cara general ake that he is ma atheritate the fis or the boundar' > hat have anser-4500 Mental Wife Hills in a senior ay council air , the Gulf of the internati the rape the the "Ar by both mile and of fac S ...dependent re antaines of his past five see acts and helpsy:

Line pro-

- the comm athhat s nembers in trial par

ET PRICE

Bush कर जाहणातींत्र क्रम्

ARAB BAUR.
JORDAN MATICIAL BAME
CAIRO ANAM BANE
BAMF OF JORDAN
MIDDLE EAST INVESTMENT BANK.
MIDDLE EAST INVESTMENT BANK.
MIDDLE HAVE INVESTMENT BANK.
THE MOUSING BANK
JORDAN INVESTMENT BANK.
ARAB JORDAN INVESTMENT BANK.
JORDAN INJANIC BANK 1,764,984 147.000 150.000 151.000 1,857,441 5.150 5.100 5.690 37,514 28.000 27.300 28.000 JORDAN INVESTMENT BARK JORDAN ISLANIC BANK UNION BARK FOR LAVING & INVESTMENT BUSINESS BANK JORDAN INVESTMENT & FIRANCE BANK BEIT BLAKL SAVINGLINVESTMENT FOR H BUT BLAKL SAVIECT INVESTMENT FOR ANNUAR BANK FOR DIVISIONENT FOR ANNUAR BANK FOR DIVISIONENT FOR ANNUAR BANK FOR CORPORATION/JORDAN PHILADELPHIA INVESTMENT BANK.
JORDAN INCURANCE
APADIAN SERS INSURANCE
APADIAN SERS INSURANCE
JORDAN FRENCH INSURANCE
JORDAN FRENCH INSURANCE
JORDAN FRENCH INSURANCE
JORDAN GOLF INSURANCE
JORDAN GOLF INSURANCE
JORDAN GOLF INSURANCE
JORDAN GOLF INSURANCE
AL-NISK AL-ARABI INSURANCE
AL-NISK AL-ARABI INSURANCE AL-NISH AL-ARABI INSURANCE JURDANIA ELECTRIC POMER JORDAN HOTEL & TOURISM JORDAN HOTEL & TOURISM JURDAN HOTEL & TOURISM YENICLES OWNERS FEDERATION ANAB INTERNATIONAL BOTELS the investigator

4.350
4.000
6.100
6.100
6.100
6.100
1.570
4.053
7.524
7.524
7.525
7.524
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526
7.526 JORDAN HATORAL SHIPPING LINES
JORDAN TOURISH & SPA COMPLEX
MATICHAL POSTFULIO SECURITIES
MATICHAL POSTFULIO SECURITIES
PETAL ESTATE INVESTMENT
JORDAN GULF REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT
PETRA LETERPRISES & BOUIPMENTS LEASING
JOPDAN INTERNATIONAL TRADING CENTER
MACHINERY FOULD DESTRIC & MATERIALISM 1.330 2.160 1.900 2.220 PACHINARY EQUIP. RENTING & MAINTEN ATTAMOTEP CONST. MATERIAL MANA THE JORDAN CEMENT FACTORIES JORSAN PETROLEUM REPIRARY THE INDUSTRIAL COMPURCIAL A ACRIC THE JOPDAN MONSTED HILLS APAN PHARMACEUTICAL MARMPACTURING JOPPAN CEPANIC INDUSTRIES JOPDAN DAIRY
THE JOPDAN PIPES MANUFACTURING
JORDAN PAPER & CARDBOARD PACTORIES
THE PUBLIC MINING ARAB CUENICAL DETERGENTS INDUSTRIES 116.623 DAR AL DAWA DEVILOPMENT & LUVESTHENT ANAB INVESTMENT & INTERNATIONAL TRADE APAB ALUMINIUM INDUSTRY 3,084,672 19.220 GENERAL INVESTMENT ARAB PAPER CONVERTING & TRADING JOPPAN MEDICAL COMPORATION MATIONAL STEEL INDUSTRY NATIONAL INDUSTRIES 5.840 0.910 4.490 6.350 2.900 9.650 4.850 1.270 INTERNEDIATE PETRO-CHENICAL INDUSTRIES ALADDIN INDUSTRIES JOHDAN MOOD INDUSTRIES / MATCH/JIMCO JOHDAN MOOD INDUSTRIES / JMICO

GRAND TOTAL

4.100 12.400 4.570 4.250 2.020 3.600 5.383

23,524 733,625 196,406 1,006,723

213,233

39.888

į	PARALLEL MARKET TRADING ACTIVITY FOR	THE PERIOD (1	5/05/1 99 :	3 - 19/6:	5/1993)
	WEEKLY RI	PORT
	COMPANY'S HAVE	TRADING VOLUME JD	PRIV. CLOSIES PRICE	OPENING PRICE	PRICE
	pro-mark and an armed in the second construction of the second construction	المالفنادي يسوس		-
	CENTRAL GENERAL TRADING & STORAGE	462,465	1.450	1-520	1.390
	ARAB INTER. FOR INVESTMENT & EDUCATION	356,611	2.980	3-010	2.540
	JORDAN TRADE FACILITIES	784,421	9.870	8.910	0.7910
	JORDANIAN EXPATRIATES INVESTMENT HOLDING	108,897	1.950	2.050	1.680
		قسسمد محمد معور
	CPAND TOTAL	1,712,303

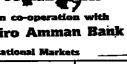

Financial Markets

ARAD CENTER FOR PHARM. & CHENICALS

RAWITER INVESTMENT UNIVERSAL HODERN INDUSTRIES

JOPAN KUMAIT CO. FOR AGRI. & POOD PROD

G. Bollat III international Files.
Ситтелсу	New York Close Date 19/5/93	Tokyo Close Date 20/5/93
Sterling Pound*	1.5445,	1.5445
Deutsche Mark	1.6231	1.6183
Swiss Franc	1.4735	1.4685
French Franc	5.4700	5.4478
Јарацеве Уен	110.60	110.40
European Curreny Unit	1.2050 -	1.2085

USD Per STC

ATII 06 81	3 MTHS 3.09 5.93	3.28 5.93	3.43 5.93
81	5.93	5.93
			5.93
49
96	7.31	7.00	6.50
00	5.00	4.78 .	4.56
68	7.25	6.81	6.56
21	3.25	3.31	3.31
75	7.50	7.31	6.96
	68 21 75	7.25 7.25 7.5 7.5	68 7.25 6.81 21 3.25 3.31

entral B.m., of Jordan Exchange Rate Bulletin
	Date	Date: 22/5/1993
Currency .	Bid -	Offer
U.S. Dollar	0.6860	0.6880
Sterling Pound	1.0579	1.0632
Deutsche Mark	0.4233	0.4254
Swiss Franc	0.4666	0.4689
French Franc	0.1257	0.1263
Japanese Yen*	0.6198	0.6229
Dutch Guilder .	0.3774	0.3793
Swedish Krona	0.0936	0.0941
Palian Lira*	0.0467	0.0469
Belgian Franc	0.02054	0.02064

* Per 100	_ .
Other Currenties	Date: 20/5/1993
Currency ;	Bid	Offer
Bahraini Dinar	1.7970	1.8300
Lebanese Lira®	0.03835	0.04065
Saudi Riyal	0.1826	0.1838
Kuwaiti Dinar	2.2300	2.2800

reports steep fall in 1992 profits decline in interest rates and fall in the U.S. dollar slashed the net profits of the United Arab Emirates (UAE) central bank by 42 per cent in 1992.

Net profits stood at 589 million dirhams ($160.4 million) in 1992 compared with 1.02 billion dirhams ($277 million) in 1991, the bank has said.

It gave no reason for the sharp decline but its balance sheet showed a slump in earnings from interests to 601 million dirhams ($163.7 million) in 1992, from 960 million dirhams ($261.5 million)

"Net loss resulting from varying exchange rates of foreign lion, dirhams ($32.1 million), from 27 million dirhams ($7.35 million), the bank said.

major international currencies. delinking currencies in the UAE and other Gulf states from the

The balance sheet showed the Japan exports to Gulf Arab states rise

DUBAI (R) - Japan exports to the six Gulf Arab oil states rose a healthy 29 per cent to almost $10 billion last year despite the dearer

While exports to Saudi arabia, Bahrain, Kuwait, Qatar, Oman and the United Arab Emirates (UAE) rose in 1992 to $ 9.64 billion, Japanese imports from the Arab oil to Japan rose by only 5.8 per cent to $19.5 billion.

Bank sources noted that most of its foreign assets were in the dollar, which has sharply dropped in the past two years against other The fall has prompted calls for central bank's assets had risen steadily over the past few months to reach 21.86 billion dirhams ($5.95 billion) at the end of six, mainly oil, were virtually unchanged at $25.6 billion. Falling oil prices, meant that despite a 10.5 per cent increase in Japanese oil imports from the six, the cost of imported Gulf

With oil and oil products accounting for 87 per cent of Japanese imports from the Gulf, Japan's trade deficit with the six oil exporters shrank to $17.9 million from $15.9 million in 1991.

Saudi Arabia and the UAE remained Japan's main trading partners in the region, accounting respectively for 50.2 per cent and 28.3 per cent of Japanese exports and 39.8 per cent and 38.1 per cent of imports.

Passenger cars were among the most important Japanese exports, up 40.1 per cent on the previous year to $2.3 billion.

UAE central bank ATFP works on increasing flow of trade between two Arab blocs

ABU DHABI (R) — An Arab Monetary Fund (AMF) programme is moving ahead with plans to set up a common market favoring Arab products but must first tackle lopsided trade between Arab countries, AMF officials said.

Faris Bingaradi, assistant technical chief of the Arab Trade Finance Programme (ATFP), said Gulf Arab states and five North African countries have effectively formed trading blocs within the Arab League.

"Both blocs contribute a major share to inter-Arab trade but their role is on a sub-regional basis," he said in an interview. "How do we link the two sub-regions to create the bigger market with other Arab markets?" The AMF set up the ATFP in 1990 to develop Arab industry by promoting lacklustre inter-Arab trade, only eight per cent of total Arab trade of $10.2 billion in Most of the ATFP's funds have been absorbed by Gulf Arab states and North African states. of the programme were only reaching some members.

AMF Chairman Osama Faquih said in a speech Tuesday that most of the Arab League's attempts to boost inter-Arab trade have "remained mere words on paper".

Gulf Cooperation Council states Saudi Arabia, Oman, Qatar, the United Arab Emirates, Kuwait and Bahrain, which are trying to set up a common market, have developed export bases by channelling petrodollars into non-oil industries, Mr. Bingaradi told Reuters.

Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, Libya and Mauritania set up their Arab Maghreb Union in 1989 to face the challenge of the single European market.

The two groups accounted for 99 per cent of the ATFP's credit lines last year. From 1990 to February 1993

the ATFP approved credits of $170 million for inter-Arab trade deals in Algeria, Morocco, Tuni-

Lebanon appoints new central bank governor

BEIRUT (R) — Lebanon has replaced the governor of its central bank and his deputies as part of a series of high-level appointments to public jobs. The government, in a meeting late Thursday, named Riad Salameh to head the central bank. He replaces Michel Khouri, who resigned Tuesday. Mr. Salameh, 43, has been based in Paris where he worked for an international brokering company. The government also replaced the four deputies of the central bank governor. Mr. Salameh and his deputies will assume the posts as part of a series of 72 high-level appointments by Prime Minister Rafik Al-Hariri's government, which is struggling to achieve administrative reform after years of corruption in the country.

sia, Saudi Arabia, Sudan, Kuwait Arab trade but contributed to and Oman.

"It rests for us to see how to get of trade between them." Mr. Bingaradi said. "Geographical proximity and similar consumption patterns in the Maghreb and the Gulf have enhanced inter-trade blocs being formed."

The Arab League Committee the two blocs to increase the flow on Trade Negotiations is due to meet in Cairo next month to discuss an AMF/ATFP proposal for trade negotiations reducing tariffs across the board for Arab trading partners.

TODAY TODAY TODAY TODAY

EUROPEAN CUISINE

Today Today

Open for lunch and dinner

Open from 4 p.m.-12 p.m. Couples only

Amman - Abdoon Tel. 822425

NEW IN EVERYTHING

TODAY TODAY TODAY

DANZAS

INTERNATIONAL DOOR TO DOOR REMOVALS

GERMAN DRIVERS - AIR - RIDDEN REMOVAL TRUCKS

YOUR REGULAR LINK TO AND FROM EUROPE

SPECIALISTS FOR DIPLOMATIC REMOVALS

IN THE NEAR EAST

FOR DETAILED INFORMATION PLEASE CONTACT

EASTERN SERVICES

OFFICIAL DANZAS AGENT IN JORDAN

TEL: 621 775 TLX: 23023 FAX: 656 270

AMMAN - JORDAN

PEACE BUILDING - JABAL LWEIBDEH

THE PROFESSIONALS

PACKING, AIR FREIGHT FORWARDING, DOOR-to DOOR SERVICES AND DELIVERIES, CUSTOMS CLEARANCE, TICKETS AND, RESERVATIONS.

ALWAYS CHOOSE

THE RELIABLE

AMIN KAWAR & SONS TEL 604676 604696 P.O.BOX 7806

AMRA HOTEL SHOPPING AREA Tel.: 813219

AUTHENTICKS.

colorful almosphere

A Restaurant With

An Artistic Ambiance

BECAUSE YOU HAVE TO KNOW...

Export & Market development.

Jordanian Marketing

Research Bureau

Tel. 691906 Fax: 602419

WE SURVEY THE MARKETS.

Consumer research

STUDIO HAIG

Professional Quality in 1 Hour Service Develop your colour film at our shop and get:-

* JUMBO photo size 30% larger • Free enlargement 20 x 30 cm

Swefieh tel: 823891

CHEN'S CHINESE RESTAURANT

Mecca Street, Yarmouk Engineers' Housing Estate, near Kilo Supermarket Mongolian Barbeque for Lunch Friday only Tel: 818214

Come and taste our specialities Open daily 12:00 - 3:30 p.m.

6:30 - Midnight

Abdoun / Near Orthodoxy Club Circle - Jordan Supermarket Building , 2nd Floor Tel: 824677

JORDAN MARKET PLACE

4 RENT & SALE

- Many villas and apartments are available for rent and sale, furnished or unfurnished. Also many plots of land are available for sale. For further details. please call:

Abdoun Real Estate Tel.: 810605/810509 Fax: 810520

120

Chinese dishes

from all great regional cuisine styles of China.

Onen daily for lunch & dinner

Take away service Jabal Al Hussen

ozena

Open air terrace. Round table for 12-18

Tel 613572

guests. Open 7 days a week

2nd circle - Jabal Amman.

Restaurant

The Inn Place to be...

HOUSE

Restaurant

We try harder.

MANDARIN RESTAURANT

Special Chinese Foods

Skilled Chinese Chefs

Open 12:30-3:30 & 8:02-11:30 dads

Take away is available

Wadi Sagra Road

near Philadelphia Hotel

Tel. 661922, Amman

Always Leved

"homely and intimate"

Tel. 630571 Fax. 630572

Restaurant

& Tapas Bar

International Dishes

& Spanish Specialities

Jebel Amman - 3rd Circle

Hisham International Tours "THE RELAIABLE NAME IN JORDAN" Book now & Join

our classy summer trips (8) days (7) nights ★ Istanbul $800 H/B & tours Antalya $ 800 H/B ★ Turkish Riviera $800 H/B ★ Cyprus $770 B/B ★ All in 5 star INT'L HTLS

Luxury Hotels in Turkey, Cyprus

Tailor-made

Outgoing Tours

& Hotel reservations at

Our first class services & moderate prices make sense for leisure & business travellers Tel.: 698180/698181, Fax 689307

Take away is available Open daily 12:00-3:30 p.m. 7:00 - Midnight

Tel. 638958

The First Class Hotel in Amman that has a Kitchenette_in_every_room...! "Satellite T.V. Reception" DAROTEL =۱۱۱۹:

Amman - Tel. 668193 PO Box 9403 - Fax 602434 Telex 23888 DAROTL JO Ideal Residence For Expatriates and Businessmen

Sihanouk threatens Khmer Rouge

dian head of state Prince Norodom Sihanouk, who has urged that the Khmer Rouge be brought into a future reconciliation government despite their boycott of next week's polls, has fallen out with the guerrillas.

The prince, due back in Cambodia Saturday from Peking, is seen as the only figure who could create a government, of reconciliation after the elections and end decades of bloodshed.

He wrote in angry letter to Khmer Rouge nominal leader Khieu Samphan demanding an explanation of a five-year-old speech by the Maoist guerrillas' "brother number one," Pol Pot, still widely believed to be running the organisation, a Sihanouk spokesman said Friday.

The 1988 speech, reported in a recent edition of the Bangkok Post, said Prince Sihanouk, onetime king and prime minister of Cambodia, "is more than 90 per cent paranoid due to all sorts of hedonism, corruption, financial misfeasance and debauchery and hooliganism."

"I kindly ask that your excellency either confirm or deny these totally unacceptable words of Mr. Pol Pot," Prince Sihanouk said in a May 14 letter to Khieu

Prince Sihanouk had earlier said he would support giving the servative government has finally forced its bill to ratify the Maastricht Treaty through a fractions lower house of parliament, after more than 200 hours of debate.

fighting among Conservative members of parliament, which badly hurt the standing of Prime Minister John Major, ended with a 292 to 112 vote win for the government in the final House of Commons vote on the bill late

Ministers believe the way is now clear for Britain to become with Germany the last of the 12

European Community (EC) members to complete ratifica-

The bill is expected to face delays in the unelected House of Thursday.

Six months of vocious in-government of national reconciliation even though they have turned thir backs on a U.N.organised peace plan and the elections starting Sunday.

Analysts are hoping that the government of Prime Minister Hun Sen will have to share power with the Royalist Party, run by one of Prince Sihanouk's sons, after the elections to prevent a full-scale return to war between the government and the Khmer

Prince Sihanouk said in his letter that the explanation he was demanding from Khieu Samphan would "naturally have certain of my future dealings with the PDK (Party of Democratic Kampuchea, or Khmer Rouge)."

The spokesman said Khieu Samphan had sent a return letter denying that Pol Pot made the speech. Experts on Cambodia's history say there is no doubt the speech was delivered.

The prince admitted to having faults like any human being, but said: "Mr. Pol Pot and his movement are guilty of abominable crimes committed against millions of our innocent compatriots, including several members of my family.

He said the report on Pol Pot's speech was "the last straw to break the camel's back" and he could not "maintain cordial and government's large majority should guarantee it passes this

Maastricht where the treaty process," Chancellor of the Exchequer (Finance Minister) Norman Lamont said in the final treaty of this importance.

speech of the debate.

British House of Commons votes test unaltered.

LONDON (R) — Britain's Con- Lords, where it goes next, but the

Khmer Rouge, for whom he once served as figurehead head of Political and ethnic violence appeared to have abated in the countryside where, U.N. officials say, nearly 200 have been killed in the two months leading to the election.

But the government and the U.N. vote organisers were in dispute over security of ballot

Government officials refused to confirm or deny speculation that the disagreement could lead to the government withdrawing from the election.

"This is a very important issue. we are now discussing it very actively with UNTAC (U.N. Transitional Authority in Cambodia)," Sok An, the government's chief of cabinet, told Reuters.

U.N. officials say the government is demanding that its offi-cials watch over ballot boxes 24hours a day during the six-day polling period and also wants to be able to place its seal on the boxes to prevent them from being tampered with.

UNTAC plans to store ballot boxes overnight in the bases of its peacekeeping soldiers and says this should be sufficient protec-

The Khmer Rouge call the poils a farce that will serve only to 1979.

PHNOM PENH (R) - Cambo- Khmer Rouge a role in a future friendly relations" with the legitimise the government, its bitter enemy.

> sponsible for the deaths of a million Cambodians when they ran the country from 1975 to 1979. They were ousted by a Vietnamese invasion that installed in power the government now headed by Mr. Hun Sen.

Thirteen years of civil war were formally ended by an all-fourfaction peace treaty in October 1991 that created UNTAC and led to the elections.

The Khmer Rouge Friday rejected U.N. claims that everything is set for elections in Cambodia and said they will refuse to accept the outcome.

"We could not accept to be killed, swallowed and destroyed by the Vietnamese occupation," spokesman Mak Ben told a news conference at the Khmer Rouge stronghold of Phnom Malai near the Thai border.

He accused U.N. personnel of issuing Cambodian identity cards to Vietnamese living here, which would give them the right to vote during the polls which start Sunday and run until May 28.

He also accused the United States of supplying arms to the Vietnamese and the Phnom Penh government Hanoi set up when it invaded Cambodia in late 1978, ending Khmer Rogue rule in calls June constitutional

Yeltsin

MOSCOW (R) — President Boris Yeltsin has summoned leaders of Russia's 88 republics and regions to a conference next month to prepare a new constitution, a spokesman said Friday.

He went ahead with his constitutional plans by signing a decree for the national conference, despite opposition from his archival, parliamentary Chairman

The move was announced by Mr. Yeltsin is seeking a basic document to underpin a French-style presidential republic giving the president sweeping powers to dissolve parliament and control

Mr. Khasbulatov has branded as illegal Mr. Yeltsin's May 11

announcement that he will seek to push through his blueprint by the constitutional conference be-latov's deputy, Nikolai Ryabov, have welcomed the idea, apparently influenced by the popular support shown for Mr.

Yeltsin in an April 75 referen-

Mr. Yeltsin says he is ready to compromise with his rivals and consider other constitutional proposals from an alternative draft put forward by parliament.

But he says his version must form

Mr. Yeltsin's head of administration, Sergei Filatov, said earlier this week that the June 5 assembly would be composed of

One group would represent the federation's 88 republics, regions and districts. Another would be made of presidential appointees and deputies. The others would represent political parties and movements such as the trade unions, and local self-government four groups.

officials.

the basis of any final version.

But other members of the presidential spokesman Vyaches-lav Kostikov, ITAR-TASS News

Ruslan Khasbulatov.

Agency said.

the government.

ginning June 5.

conference

The second section of the second section is a second second section of the second seco

A Bossian soldier Thursday drags the body of a women killed by a Serbian mortar shell of Serajevo (AFP photo) Bosnia fighting eases as big powers mull peace moves SARAJEVO (R) — Fighting arms embargo for Bosnian Museased in Bosnia Friday, and the lims and use air strikes to protect to give up one third of their war

major international powers appeared to be nearing agreement on new steps to contain the war in the former Yugoslav re-

In the Bosnian capital Sarajevo, where at least four people were killed Thursday in mortar exchanges between Muslim-led government forces and rebel Serbs, small arms fire erupted overnight but the city was otherwise quiet.

Battles also appeared to have subsided on most other fronts in a 13-month war that has pitted Serbs against Muslims and Croats and the Muslims and Croats against each other.

Attention switched across the Atlantic to efforts by the United States, Russia and Europe to force a common strategy on Bosnia after Serbs in control of 70 per cent of the republic overwhel-mingly rejected a U.N.-backed peace plan. U.S. President Bill Clinton and Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Kozyrev were expected to meet later Friday in Washington, amid signs the U.S., Russia and European allies were nearing agree-ment on new ways to limit the conflict.

Secretary of State Warren Christopher said after talks with Mr. Kozyrev Thursday the parties were drawing closer together on "very concrete" options.

Mr. Clinton, bowing to Russian and European opposition,

The New York Times reported Washington and Moscow had agreed to seek a joint approach with European countries that accepted, at least for now, the territorial gains made by the

The goal would be "to contain and stabilise the situation and to put the brakes on the killing," the newspaper quoted a senior U.S. dministration official as saying. Mr. Christopher was to sound out British Foreign Secretary Douglas Hurd on the plan over hunch Friday and do the same with French Foreign Minister Alain Juppe Saturday.

The U.N. Security Council put off resolutions on Bosnia so the international players could try to reach a consensus.

The Council had expected to adopt Thursday and Friday resolutions sending about 500 in-spectors to Serbia to make sure arms do not reach Bosnian Serbs and establish the structure of an international war crimes tribunal to try those reponsible for atrocities in the former Yugoslavia.

"Ministers should have a chance to chat with each other before they press ahead with resolutions on the former Yugoslavia," said one European envoy. The peace plan, drafted by European envoy Lord Owen and former U.S. Secretary of State 10 provinces broadly along ethnic

The Bosnian Serbs want a confederation of three ethnic states or, failing that, independence for their own republic.

The United States has been sceptical over the future of the U.N. plan following the Bosnian Serb rejection in a weekend referendum, but Russia and Europe are keen to promote it in the absence of any other initia-

Mr. Juppe told French televi-sion the plan was flawed but was the only way forward.

"It's certainly no longer suited to the situation on the ground, but it's the ony way of getting a new course under way," Mr. Jup-pe said after a two-day meeting of ministers from the 10-nation Western European Union defence grouping in Rome.

In the southwestern city of Mostar, Crost forces Thursday released 1,800 Muslim civilians rounded up in recent fighting, but U.N. officials said some were still being held and expressed concern over "ethnic cleansing" - the forcible removal of people be-cause of their ethnic background -- by both sides.

In Croatia, a U.N.-brokered ceasefire agreement to end Serb-Croat clashes failed to materialise Thursday when the Serb army commander did not show up for the signing ceremony. The truce is supposed to go Cyrus Vance, divides Bosnia into into effect Saturday to end the 10 provinces broadly along ethnic latest round of clashes which has backed off plans to lift a U.N. 36 bodies of 132 dead recovered from Colombian plane crash site

BOGOTA (AP)—Rescuers on below the 12,300-foot (3,690-foot reached the mountain crash metres) summit of a peak site of a Colombian jetliner and recovered 36 bodies, radio net-work reported. All 132 aboard the plane were believed killed. The team of Civil Defence and Red Cross workers struggled to the site in northwest Colombia after gusty winds and clouds prevented air search helicopters Helicopters would try to airlift the bodies out Friday, RCN and Caracoi Radio networks said. Twenty-nine Panamanians. seven Americans and other fore-from landing.

igners were among those killed when a Boeing 727 from Col-ombia's SAM Airline struck just metres) summit of a peak Wednesday and plowed into an almost vertical wall.

A second jet disaster was narrowly averted in Bogota Thursday, also involving a SAM 727. Two jetliners landed at the same time on the single runway at Bogota's El Dorado International Airport. Caracol reported, citing the Civil Aeronautics Agency. Reports said the SAM 727 had just touched down when an Air France Boeing 747 came roaring over it and landed ahead. RCN said the SAM pilot had to stop so suddenly that luggage came flying out of overhead compart-

The SAM flight was arriving from Pereira, Colombia, and the Air France flight from Quito, Ecoador. It was not immediately known how many people were aboard the planes.

Police General Carlos Pulido told Caracol Radio earlier that Wednesday's crash site was in an Andean Mountain area so inaccessible that the site may have to be declared a cemetery, bodies hung from trees, Gen. Pulido told The plane hit about 80 kilometres northwest of Medellin as it was preparing to land on a flight from Panama.

The crash area is heavily fore-

Venezuela court rules that president must stand trial

Supreme Court has ruled that President Carlos Andres Perez, a survivor of coup attempts, riots and political feuds, must stand trial on corruption charges in an unprecedented decision likely to suspend him. A ruling by the Supreme Court to try the widely unpopular president on embezzlement and misuse of public funds charges sparked jubilant street celebrations among Venezuelans long angered by widespread corruption in this oil-exporting nation. The Senate was due to meet

Friday, to vote whether to approve the court's decision and send Mr. Perez and two former ministers to trial. Chief Justice Gonzalo Rodri-

gues Corro said judges ruled 9-0, with six abstentions, to support the charges brought by public prosecutor Ramaon Escovar Salom last March. "The court agreed with the petition of trial against President Carlos Andres Perez and former ministers Reinaldo Figueredo and Alejandro Izaguirre," Mr. Rodriguez Corro said. Venezuelans erupted immediately in celebration, honking homs, banging kitchen pots and exploding firecrackers in a cathartic and peaceful expression of joy in one of the oldest democracies in the region. "This is a historic decision that will satisfy the people's thirst for justice," said Leonardo Padilla, ing right now."

They also chanted the name of Lieutenant Colonel Hugo Chavez

1992 coup attempt in what he said was an effort to save Venezuelans "Chavez was right. Perez is a crook," one student shouted outside Congress.

democracy to be forced from office, told cabinet ministers to remain in their posts to make the process less "traumatic" for the country, one minister told Reu-

be the least traumatic possible and we must cooperate to ensure this," the minister, who requested anonymity, quoted Mr.

Angel Zambrano said the cabinet had resigned to let Mr. Perez's replacement have the option of selecting a new governing team, but would remain in their posts months before general elections in Venezuela, in which Mr. Perez cannot run.

If, as expected, the Senate upholds the court's decision Mr. Perez will be suspended from power under the constitution and stand trial in the Supreme Court.

Congress President Octavio Lepage was expected to assume the presidency Friday for up to 30

Thursday his weekly radio address that he would win this latest battle.

president of Venezuela from 1974-1979 and was reelected for another five-year term in Decemquick trial to clear his name as soon as possible.

The president and the former purchase with local currency of $17 million at a preferential rate and sale in the free market for about $10 million in profit. The government has denied the charges but declined to specify how the funds were spent since they came from a classified acount used for state security. The charges against Mr. Perez became a focal point for Venezuelan public anger over perceptions of widespread corruption in high places. The Venezuelan leader has drawn parallels between himself and the former president of neighbouring Brazil, Fernando Collor De Mello, who fell from power on corruption charges last

Mr. Perez has often been on the defensive since implementing reforms in 1989 that scrapped subsidies and in turn increased prices, sharply reducing the standard of living of Venezuelans used to a paternalistic system of government handouts. The subsidies were leftovers from an era of wealth two decades ago when this member of the Organisation of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) reaped the benefits of an oil

If suspended by the Senate, Mr. Perez must cede all powers to ber 1988, says he is seeking a his interim replacement but would continue to hold the official position of president and continue to live in the presidenministers face charges in the tial La Casona residence.

Singer to reject contestants who've had plastic surgery MEXICO CITY (AP) - Singer

Maria Conchita Alonso, who will be among the judges of the Miss Universe 1993 contest, says she'll vote against any beauty contestant she knows has undergone plastic surgery. "One can undergo operations to improve certain parts of their body, but not to participate in a contest like this," said Ms. Alonso, who once represented Venezuela in the competition. "I personally am against it." To be able to reach the Miss Universe contest after undergoing plastic surgery is dishonest," she said this week as the festivities leading up to the final event drew to a close. Fellow juror Jose Luis Cuevas, a Mexican painter, said that if any contestant wins with the help of plastic surgery, "we should give the prize to the plastic surgeon." Plastic surgery is not prohibited by the Miss Universe Contest. Also on the jury will be Lupital Jones, Miss Universe 1991. whose recently published book "Palabras De Reina" - Words Of The Queen - is an insider's look at the contest. On Monday, the jury selected 10 semi-finalists from among 79 candidates from around the world but their names still remain secret. Still, the public and press have come up with some favourites: Miss Venezuela Milka Chulina, 19, Miss Guatemala Diana Galvan, 19; Miss Mexico Angelina Gonzalez, 18; Miss Brazil Leila Schuster, 21: Miss Ghana Jamila Haruna, 25: and Miss Spain Eugenia Santana, 19. On Monday night, Miss Venezuela received a $1,000 check for being the contestant with "the most beautiful hair."

Cheers ends 11-year run with philosophical flair

BOSTON, Massachusetts (R) -

Sam doesn't marry Diane, but discovers true love. Norm nearly confesses beer isn't the most unportant thing in his life. And Cliff - well, some things never change. Cheers ended its 11-year run Thursday night as one of the most popular and criticallyacclaimed series in U.S. television without the finality some fans had expected, but with a message timed for the 90s - that family is where you find it. Sam Malone, the roguish playbov whose coiffure and little black book were his most prized possessions - in that order - renkindies the aborted romance heithed with Diane Chambers years before. But they both realise it was not meant to be, and part. Norm Peterson, who ran up a beer tab rivalling the U.S. national debt found when admitting he wouldn't know what to do --"first" — if he lost his wife, gave as his parting shot a soulful remark about true love. "You always come back to her," Peterson said with a grin as Malone searches for meaning in his life meaning he realises he has in the company of his friends. "I'm the luckiest son of a bitch on earth." Malone says to himself in the empty bar. When Cheers first aired on Sept. 30, 1982, it did not immediately catch fire. It ranked 74th in its first year and did not become a season's number one hit until 1989. Based on a real neighbourhood bar in Boston, the Bull And Finch Pub, Cheers was nominated for 111 Emmy Awards, the most ever garnered by a programme, and won 26 three shy of the record set by The Mary Tyler Moore Show.

Clinton's haircut shuts down 2 runways

WASHINGTON (R) — U.S. President Bill Clinton sat aboard Air Force One on a Los Angeles runway having his hair cut, shutting down two runways for aimost an hour and forcing an incoming flight to circle the airport for 17 minutes. But the White House insisted that Tuesday's hairtrimming session, dubbed "hair force one" by the Washington Post, did not betray Mr. Clinton's image as a common man. "The president has to get his hair cut like everybody else has to get their hair cut." said spokesman George Stephanopoulos, who noted Mr. Clinton has a "very busy schedule"

Major gets damages over libel article

LONDON (R) - W.H. Smith. Britain's nationwide chain of bookshops and newsagents, said it had paid damages to Prime Minister John Major for having sold a magazine that alleged he had an affair. Mr. Major, 49, and caterer Clare Latimer, 41, brought separate libel actions over the article, which appeared in February in the New States-man and society. BPCC Maga-zines (Colchester) Ltd., printers of the magazine, its distributors Comags and newsagents John Menzies apologised in court and paid undisclosed damages to Mr. Major and Latimer earlier this

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF Spain's Socialists ahead in poll

MADRID (R) — Spain's ruling Socialists moved slightly ahead of opposition conservatives in opinion polls as official campaigning began Friday for the June 6 general elections. Polls published in two papers to coincide with the start of the campaign gave Prime Minister Felipe Gonzalez's Socialist Workers Party (PSOE) a lead of between two and four points over the Popular Party (PP), led by lawyer Jose Maria Aznar. The polls were the first taken since the peseta was devalued last week for the third time in eight months and confounded predictions the levaluation would cost the government support. The PSOE, in power for almost 11 years, had the clearest advantage in a poll published by the Catalan daily El Periodico, which gave them 35 per cent of the probable vote against 30.7 per cent for the PP. Another in the Madrid daily Diario 16 also put the Socialists at 35 per cent but gave the PP 33 per cent.

China, U.K. resume Hong Kong talks

PEKING (R) - China and Britain began a third round of talks over political reform in Hong Kong Friday, but neither side held out any prospect for an early resolution to their bitter dispute. Sir Robin McLaren, the British ambassador to Peking who is London's representative to the talks, told reporters: "It is clear that both sides are approaching these discussions in a positive spirit." But he declined to be drawn on the content of the discussions or whether differences could be resolved by the end of July. "We don't think it helpful at this stage to lay down any precise timetables," he said. The Chinese negotiator, Vice Foreign Minister Jiang Enzhu, said both sides were working hard. "The meetings are proceeding normally," he said.

E. Timor rebel chief jailed for life

DILI, East Timor (R) - An Indonesian court on Friday sentenced East Timor rebel leader Xanana Gusmao to life imprisonment. Mr. Zanana has led the Fretilin rebel movement for most of the 17 years East Timor has been ruled by Indonesia He was found guilty of leading a separatist movement and illegal possession of weapons. "The reason the punishment is so heavy is that the defendant's actions disturbed stability in East Timor.' Judge Hieronymus Godang told the Dili court after passing

Guests flee burning Philippines hotel

CEBU, Philippines (R) - Forty frightened guests and a sedated tiger escaped unharmed from a blazing Philippines hotel Friday, hotel staff said. Reports said several people were injured at the fire in Cebu city, 575 kilometres south east of Manila but Fire Marshall Anacleto Sabellon could not confirm any casualties. One unidentified Japanese tourist escaped from the blazing 140-room Magellan Hotel by sliding down a water pipe from a fourth floor window. Several other guests, also believed to be Japanese, were seen jumping into the hotel swimming pool, witnesses said. "There were 40 guests at the time but all of them were taken to safety," hotel spoekswoman Ana Conejero said. She said a tiger named Abu which was kept in a cage outside the Lasang (Jungle) Discotheque in the hotel basement was also evacuated but had to be tranquilised first with an injection.

Strong earthquake shakes Tokyo

TOKYO (R) — A strong earthquake registering a preliminary 5.2 on the Richter Scale joited downtown Tokyo Friday, causing high buildings to sway and jiggle for several minutes. There were no immediate reports of serious damage or injuries. High-speed bullet trains in the area surrounding Tokyo were temporarily halted and Tokyo's Haneda Airport briefly closed three runways to check for damage, but there were no other reports of disruption to transportation networks. The earthquake struck at 11:36 a.m. (0236 GMT). There was no immediate danger of Tsunami seismic waves, the Central Meteorological Agency said. The agency said the quake's epicentre was located roughly 60 kilometres below ground in southwestern Ibraki prefecture (state), a largely rural area.

to ratify Maastricht Treaty mons has hobbled the government's legislative programme and diverted ministerial attention from other issues.

Government officials expect "Euro-rebels" in Mr. Major's full ratification by August, 20 months after the EC summit in party kept up their attack in the Lower House until the bitter end and vowed to continue their call claimed by Mr. Major as his in the Lords for a referendum on greatest triumph — was signed.
"I've noticed that some people the treaty. Their assault there will be led by the former prime minisin Europe have been somewhat ter, Lady Thatcher. frustrated at the pace of our

Forty Conservatives voted against the government on Thursday, joined by 70 members of the main opposition Labour Party who defied their leaders' de-

"But we don't owe them any apologies at all. It is quite right mands that they abstain. we should deliberate carefully on Labour objects to Britain's decision to opt out of the treaty's The time-consuming debate on the Maastricht bill in the Comsocial chapter, which covers labour and welfare rights.

Extremists triumph in N. Ireland elections

BELFAST (AP) — With thousands of votes still to be counted Friday, Northern Ire-land's extremists celebrated a clutch of local election victories that suggest little prospect of political compromise.

Democratic Unionist hardliners on the Protestant side and Sinn Fein, which supports the IRA's 23-year violent campaign against British rule, both put in strong individual performances in Wednesday's ballot for 26 local

Votes still uncounted included those for Catholic West Belfast. the cockpit of Sinn Fein support. Shortly before counting began Thursday, an IRA truck bomb exploded in downtown Belfast, injuring 20 people and damaging more than a dozen buildings, including the Grand Opera House and the Europa Hotel The Democratic Unionists, founded and led by the firebrand Rev. Ian Paisley, defied predictions to increase their share of the vote by 10 per cent to 30 per cent in some Protestant parts of Belfast, electoral returns showed.

With votes in 461 of 586 council seats tallied when Thursday's counting ended, the Ulster Unionists had won 167 seats while the Democratic Unionists (DUP) had captured 98 seats.

Both parties support Northern Ireland's continued union with Britain but he DUP campaign railed against negotiations. A British government initiative to get Northern Ireland's politicians back to talks with the Irish government failed last November.

Peter Robinson, deputy leader of the DUP, said the poll results have given his party "a mandate to take part in a (talks) process that could only lead to failure or betrayal."

On the Catholic side, the moderate Social Democratic and Labour Party --- which shares power with Protestants on some councils — gained in areas of comparatively low violence while Sinn Fein socred victories where the population felt most under threat. In the "murder triangle" around Dungannon, 80

kilometres west of Belfast, Sinn Fein council members Raymond McMahou and Francie Mollov topped the polls in their wards for the first time. The party won five seats on a 22-seat Council renowed for a close working reltionship between the SDLP and Ulster Unionists.

CARACAS (R) — Venezuela's 25, a university student. "We are optimistic, we are happy and we will begin to move forward start-

> Frias, who lead the February from poverty and corruption.

Mr. Perez, 70, who would be the first president in 35 years of "The transition period should Perez as saying. Earlier, Information Minister for now. The decision came only seven

Carlos Andres Perez

days, as provided by the constitution, until the legislature elects a replacement to serve until the The president predicted early

Mr. Perez, who first served as

By a Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN — The Second Division Basketball Championship comes to an end Sunday when Abbasi and Homentmen clash in the final of the competition organised by the Jordan Bas-

Homentmen are well on their way to returning to the First Division as they won both their matches in the second round of the championship, defeating Yarmouk Amman 68-50 and Gazzet Hashem 75-

67. They had also maintained an unbeaten streak in the first round before losing to Abbasi

in the first round final 58-57.

seem to have lost their momen tum in the second round as they were upset by Yarmouk Amman 76-74 and later had difficulty overcoming Gazzet Hashem 68-56, after the latter

Homentmen now lead the standings with 4 points and will secure promotion to the First Division if they beat Abbasi, or even lose by less than 18

Yarmonk Amman - who had finished fourth in the overall standings of the first round

- were ecstatic after overcoming Abbasi earlier in the week.

and felt confident of defeating

Homentmen Thursday to stage

a big upset of former First Division teams.

That was not the case

however in Yarmouk's match against Homentmen at the Sports Palace Court, as Yar-mouk could only keep up with their opponents at the beginning of the first half. Homent-men's Vasken Adjemian and

Andy Linighan waited until the last possible moment to avert the first-ever penalty shootout in Football Association Cup final history Thursday, as he headed in a Paul Merson corner to give Arsenal a 2-1 victory over Shef-

Linighan, positioned less than five yards from the goal, put the ball through the hands of England goalkeeper Chris Woods

during injury time which had been added on to extra time.

The victory gives Arsenal its fifth F.A. Cup title and the London team became the first to capture both major English cups

in one season, having defeated

Wednesday in the League Cup

Arsenal's Ian Wright scored his 30th goal of the season and Chris

Waddle answered for Wednesday

as the teams were level after 90 able as both clubs missed chances in extra time until Linighan found the net seconds before the final

A shootout appeared inevitfinal last month.

won the first half 34-26.

Abbasi on the other hand,

ketball Federation (JBF).

2nd Division Basketball Championship

Abbasi face Homentmen

in final match Sunday

Ibrahim Tadros scored 11 consecutive points, however scoring remained close with Ho-mentmen leading 22-16 with 11

Homentmen substituted injured Vicken Avakian by Al'a

Abu Rahmeh, who secured defensive rebounding, scored and assisted his teammates Robert

Chatmajian, and Adjemian who scored to widen their team's lead to 33-16. Yarmouk did not score for nearly five minutes, before they added 7 consecutive points to narrow the gap to 35-25. Homentmen won the

In the second half Homent-

Linighan's late header wins F.A. Cup for Arsenal

They made it very hard for

der. "Over the two games, I think it really deserved to go to penal-ties but I timed it just right."

F.A. Cup finals, was forced by a 1-1 draw lst Saturday that had both teams showing the weary play, the replay featured a quicker tempo marred by spells of Arsenal's Danish midfielder

John Jensen set the mood early with an aggresssive tackle that sent Chris Waddle to the turf for serious scoring opportunity after a 40-yard run left him with only

Woods to beat, but the goalkeep-er smothered the midfielder's

Continued rough play led to several cautions from referee

Keren Barratt, who issued the Merson had the game's first several minutes.

GOREN BRIDGE

WEEKLY BRIDGE QUIZ

But, despite occasional sloppy effects of the long season.

The replay, the 14th in 112

said the 30-year-old defen-

Standings

first half 42-27.

Yarmouk Amman

minutes remaining.

Bush

divisity proke on and ducstioning by officials. iti dathurith A from the stan be the limited State. " Water has not a and would a in i The trial is self the trade, as to the five other by lace death senter the suspects did go more who the target attacks was one told authors. Mr Bush, the of the investigate Mr Bush was mig or whether the is an all City to gate nestigators duct that Iraq was bele in bused largeh. of the explosive E neged to eath liding Mr. Bush van of the type used; ist acts. interviewed the sa the past two week also was conver carget was Mr. be theat coviews have be soul the suspects the suspects plan upionales arounds Plans markelf mg ish, in case thre annothing U.S ree not trad, opin ve internationals

to one are alress

escal by the US

thing that king

: for its invasio vautoraal debe mis have sugge communication and n . : Intelligent that the suggest : with wide upp the civilian at per likely means

Sala poundan ing brundan one the low-Khour Thobas and Instantant B. which section ! calculate conde tary general above non that he start the for the fix

.... inc bounds:

er is and helpsi

and pre-

The Proceedings

महरताना प्रक्रा और 🤏 Casefire is and council and e time Gulf at ic internali the tank n the "4" and by both in at for pendent ro . Triant " - transcent lis-

, and the of the comme Sections on the ind par

ול אוינורין, LET PRICES Q.2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold: •Q652 ♥643 ◇J92 ♣A83 The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 Dbl 1 ?

The bidding has proceeded.
North East South West

1 Dbl ?

What action do you take?

What action do you take? Q.3—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold: ◆AQ76 ♥AJ63 ♦7 ◆AK92 The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

1 > Dbl Page 1 *

What do you bid now? Q.4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

472 ∇AK1095 ♦AQ109 4A8

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♥ Pass 2 ♣ Pass

What do you bid now?

Q.5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

$\phi A9852 \nbacksize \text{VKJ63} \times \text{Void $\phi J765}$

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 \times Pass 1 \phi Pass

2 \times Pass 2 \times Pass 1 ¢ 2 ¢ Pass

2 • Pass ? What action do you take? Q.6-Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

494 ♥AQJ63 ♦A105 ♣Q98

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1♥ Pass 1♠ Pass

Group A World Cup preliminaries begin today

AMMAN (J.T.) — The first round of Group A World Cup preliminary matches begin Saturday at Al Hassan Sports City in

The opening ceremony, held under the patronage of His Majesty King Hussein, will begin at 4 p.m. It will be followed by the opening match in which Jor-dan plays Yemen.

In the second match of the day, Pakistan faces China at 8:30 p.m. The first round continues until May 30. The second leg of the first round will be played in Chengdu, China starting June 12.

Suns win series men took advantage of Yar-mouk's lack of fitness as they continued to score and established a commanding 60-35

Yarmouk burdened Ho-mentmen by a big number of fouls and thus managed to out-score their opponents 15-8 in the final minutes of the match and narrowed the gap to give Homentmen a 68-50 win.

The final match Sunday will be held at 7 p.m. at the Sports

Palace court, and will be pre-ceded by the Yarmouk Amman - Gazzet Hashem match.

Only one team will be promoted to the First Division this after the Wednesday striker bloodies Linighan's nose with an

The peace accelerated in the final 15 minutes, and Arsenal's

Smith received his first career booking when he pushed substi-

Merson missed his second the edge of the box waas too hot the keeper was fortunate to con-

Wednesday kept up the pressure but Nigel Worthington's cross was headed wide by Hirst in the Hirst also had a chance in injury time, but he was again

Linighan well inside the box.

The defender injured knee liga-

The game attracthed 62,267 fans, the smallest crowd to wit-years at Wembley.

elbow in the 18th minute.

in the 77th minute.

him toward the net.

after a fine run.

SAN ANTONIO (R) — Charles Barkley hit a jumper from the top of the key with 1.8 seconds left to give Phoenix a 102-100 victory over the San Antonio Spurs Thursday, moving the Suns into the Western Conference finals.

The Suns won the best-ofseven series 4-2 to reach the Western finals for the first time

They will play the winner of the Houston-Seattle series, which was locked at 3-3 after the Houston Rockets beat the Supersonics 103-90 in their game six.

Phoenix was leading 99-98 following Dale Ellis's three-pointer for the Spurs with 14.5 seconds to go when Danny Ainge went to the free throw line with a chance to put the Suns up three. Ainge made the first but mis-sed the second and Barkley committed a loose ball foul on David Robinson. Robinson made both free throws with 11 seconds to go to tie the game and set the stage for Barkley. Barkley finished with 28 points, 21 rebounds, four assists and four steals. Dan Majerle and each for the Suns. Robinson, who had a desperation shot blocked at the buzzer, led the Spurs with 22 points and 14 rebounds and Sean Elliott added 19 points and 11 rebounds.

Kevin Johnson added 18 points

San Antonio, which lost at home in the playoffs for the first time after four victories, played without forward Antoine Carr who had a sprained ankle. Barkley, who had 36 points in the Suns' game five voitory, responded with a three-point play to begin a 12-0 run that put Phoenix ahead 88-86. Tom Chambers scored six points during the outburst. J.K. Reid scored inside and Robinson hit one of two free throws to put San Antonio back opportunity when his drive from in front. In Houston, a red-hot kenny for Woods to handle cleanly, and Smith scored a career playoffhigh 30 points and Houston outtrol the ball as it dribbled behind scored Seattle 36-15 in the third quarter to break the game open.

> Smith bit 13 of 16 shots and did not committ a turnover as the Rockets continued the pattern that has seen the home team win every game of this series. Otis Thorpe added 18 points wide from the left side of the box and 10 rebounds for Houston. Shawn Kemp, who was in foul trouble with five personals, Both teams showed fatigue in extra time, and Arsenal had to scored only one point and missed make do without Wright, who both his shots from field in 26 was substituted by manager

George Graham midway through the second half.
Bright looked sure to secure The Rockets had a 67-60 lead and scored the next 10 points to the game winner 14 minutes into take control of the contest with one minute left in the period. overtime but was brought down with a spectacular tackle by Vernon Maxwell, who scored 15 points, hit a 35-foot three-pointer Wednesday played without as the 24-second clock expired to regular captain Viv Anderson.

start the 10-0 burst. Smith and Olajuwon hit field goals and Smith then capped the burst with a three-pointer.

ments in Saturday's game and failed a fitness test prior to the Olajuwon finished with 14 points and 10 rebounds and Robert Horry added 15 points as ness an F.A. Cup final in its 70 every Houston starter scored in double figures.

Cinema

Countdown begins for May 27-28 Jordan International Rally

By Aleen Bannayan Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN - Competition in the 1993 Jordan International Rally — one of the rounds of the Middle East Rally Championship --- promises to be an exhausting and challenging event, as 46 competitors will fight it out in a two-day battle

His Royal Highness Prince Faisal Ben Al Hussein will give the start signal of the rally, as competitors set off from the Roman amphitheatre in Downtown Amman, Thursday

May 27 at 4 p.m.

There will be 22 special stages making up 400 kilometres of the 970-kilometre rally. The first day of the rally will be on asphalt roads north of the Kingdom. This leg will feature 11 special stages, the first one being at Marsa' north of Shafa Badran. Cars will then bead north towards Masarra, Ras Al Agra, Soof and Kufr Khal before the first car is due at the Jerash service and regrouping halt by 7.43 p.m.

The restart will be from the Jerash Resthouse at 8:30 p.m. as competitors drive through the six remaining special stages of the first leg, passing through Ras Al Aqra, Soof, Kufr Khal, Masarra, Marsa' and Rumei-

The first car is due at the Forte Grand Hotel in Amman the rally's headquarters at 1.m. Friday.

The second leg of the rally will start at 9 a.m. Friday, and will take drivers through the remaining 11 special stages in the desert areas south of the country. The start will be from the Forte Grand Hotel towards the 12th special stage at Tunaib near Queen Alia International Airport. Competitors will then Hafira near Qatrana, then to Hasa and Fujeij before reaching the Petra Forum Hotel for service and regrouping. The restart will be at 3.30 p.m. passing through Beidha, Fujeij, Hasa, Hafira, Swaqqa and Tunaib. The first car is due at the finish ramp at the Forte Grand Hotel at 9.15 p.m.

Rally organisers — the Royal Automobile Club of Jordan (RACI) — are now putting the finishing touches on the minor details of the most prestigious auto sports event in the country, sponsored by Gold Coast.

Organisers seemed happy with arrangements, organisation and number of entries. Deputy clerk of the course, Ziad Louza, said that this year's rally will be "an entirely national effort.' "There will be over 350 marshals and volunteers assisting us throughout the event." Mr. Louza Thursday told the Jor-

In addition to the regular volunteers and officials, the RACI has also sought the help of sports clubs north and south fo the country.

Mr. Louza also pointed out that there were 32 group A and B homologated cars, 50 per cent of which are Jordanian. This, he said, is "a very encouraging and positive sign for the future."

Last year's winner Abbas Mosawi, told the Jordan Times that he would not be competing this year as he was concentrating on desert challenge RAID rallies this season.

This year's rally has attracted the best of Jordan's drivers in addition to competitors from Italy, Qatar, Leba-non, Cyprus, the United Arab Emirates, Russia, Saudi Arabia, Syria, the Czech Republic

The rallyis expected to be marked by fierce competition among tough challengers like Qatar's Naser Al Atiyeh, Syria's Mudar al Assad, as well as Jordan's Marwan Abu Hamad, Amjad Farrah, Reimon Fleifel and others.

Tough draw for Sampras at French Open

PARIS (R) - World number one Pete Sampras has been given a tough draw for the French Open starting Monday. In Friday's draw American Sampras was matched with Russian clay court specialist Andrei Cherkasov in the first round and, providing he does not make an early exit, was given no easy fixtures in his other early match-

A likely second round opponent would be the rising South African Marcos Ondruska and a tricky third round awaits against either Jonas Svensson of Sweden, Argentine Alberto Mancini, Spa-niard Javier Sanchez or another Swede, Nicklas Kulti.

 Defending champion and fel-low American Jim Courier, by contrast, was given the luck of a draw made by France's women's 400 metres Olympic champion Marie-Jose Perec.

Courier, seeking a third successive title, faces Roberto Azar of Argentina in the first round and an easy-looking route in the bottom half of the draw towards a scheduled last 16 match with 15th seed Thomas Muster of Austria.

In one of the huge ironies of the draw, Muster was paired with his compatriot Horst Skoff. The pairing drew a gasp from the watching crowd as, apart from sharing nationality, the two have precious little in common. Muster refused to play Davis Cup this year for Austria because of his dislike of playing with Skoff and an explosive needle match is Probably the best encounter of the first round will be 10th seed Sergi Bruguera's meeting with the losing 1988 finalist Henri Leconte of France.

The Spaniard has been the outstanding clay court player of the year so far with a brilliant win at the Monte Carlo Open but Leconte is a huge crowd favourite who rises to the occasion at Roland Garros and fireworks are guaranteed.

Boris Becker, whose form on clay this year has been dismal, was given a gentle introduction to the one Grand Slam event he has

The fourth seed faces French wild card entry Nicolas Escude in the first round and an untroubled looking passage towards a scheduled last 16 meeting with Karel Novacek of the Czech Republic.

But Stefan Edberg, another player who prefers faster sur-faces, has more problems with an opening match against tough Uruguayan baseliner Marcelo Filippini and a likely second round tie with American Aaron quarter-final line-ups would match Samoras with American Ivan Lendi, Edberg with last year's beaten Czech finalist Petr Korda, Becker against Goran Ivanisevic of Croatia and Courier against fellow American Michael

Pete Sampras Krickstein.

If the seedings work out, the

Chang, the 1989 champion. The women's draw produced few early clashes to savour. Top seed, in the absence of injured Monica Seles, Steffi Grainwill meet Sweden's Cecilia Dati

Sanabel Hand Blown Glass

The Art of glassblowing in an extensive selection of Eastern styles and color combinations.

Visit us at King Abdullah Gardens Tel: 657714

First shop from the East

TEACHER OF MATHEMATICS

The Bishop's School in Amman is seeking to employ an experienced mathematics teacher to teach up to Application forms to be collected from the school's reception desk.

Monday 24th. — Wednesday 26th. May 9:00 — 1:00 (Personal photo to be attached to application form)

OFFICES WANTED

FURNISHED FLAT FOR RENT IN SHMEISANI

Three bedrooms, 2 bathrooms, 2 salons, 3 verandas, fully equipped kitchen, separate central heating, solar heater, additional water tanks, telephone, garage intercom, lift and guard for the building. Area: 200 square metres.

Location: behind Shmeisani bookshop

Tel: 668343

UNRWA is looking for an office building or part of a -building in Amman to rent.

Minimum office area needed is 3600 m2 (net) and parking for minimum 40 cars. The floor plans must be tailored for

Please submit your offer confidentially to Field Administration Officer Mr. Thomas W. Kramer, UNRWA, P.O. Box 484, Amman, Jordan or deliver it in a sealed envelope to our office in Shmeisani not later than 31 May 1993.

Tel.: 634144

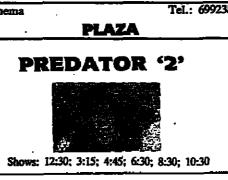

JOB OPPORTUNITIES

An international construction contractor is seeking the employment of mechanical engineers to work on its major project at the North Ghors, Jordan Valley. Applicants should have a university degree in mechanical engineering, minimum 10 years experience, and excellent command of the English language. Applications with detailed CV's should be sent to

P.O. Box 9410, Amman, Jordan not later than 29.05.1993

Excellent conditions for successful applicants.

Tel.: 677420 Cinema T CONCORD DOC 0 HOLLYWOOD D Shows: 3:15; 6:00; 8:15; 10:30

PHILADELPHIA Desperately Seeking Suzan Shows: 12:30, 3:30, 6:15, 8:30, 10:30

Tel.: 675571 Nabil Al Mashini Theatre Today the Nabil Mashini Theatre hosts

Al Fawanis Troupe acting in a play entitled:

Death of Taybeh By: Suheir Fahd, Mohammad Al Qabbani, Amer Al Khafash

Nabil & Hisham's Tel.: 625155 AHLAN THEATRE

presents Welcome Parliament and Budget On Mondays, Tuesdays and

Wednesdays AT 9:00 p.m. Welcome New World Order

On Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays at 9:00 p.m.

Please make advance reservation

NEWS IN BRIEF

Explosion kills one in S. Lebanon

TYRE (AP) - A land mine killed one man and wounded another as they walked across a hill overlooking Israel's self-designated "security zone" in South Lebanon Friday, police said. A police statement identified the fatality as Hussein Sheity, 21, who was walking with his consin Ali Sheity when the mine blew up at 9:10 a.m. (0610 GMT). The hill is just north of the "security zone," which is policed by 1,500 Israeli troops and 3,000 allied South Lebanon Army militiamen. The two victims come from the nearby village of Kafra, a stronghold for the Iranian-backed Hizbollah, which leads a guerrilla warfare against the "security zone." Hizbollah guerrillas killed in Israeli officer and wounded two paratroopers just north of the security zone Tuesday, sparking an artillery duel. It was not known who planted the and mine. Such devices have been sown by the Israelis, the SLA and guerrillas alike. The new casualties raised to 34 people killed and 120 wounded in Israeli-guerrillas hostilities and related violence in South Lebanon this year.

73 senators criticise Syria over Jews

WASHINGTON (R) — Nearly three-quarters of the U.S. Senate asked President Bill Clinton Thursday to pressure Syria to live up to its commitment to allow Jews to leave the country. In a letter to the president, Senator Edward Kennedy, Senator Charles Grassley and 71 other senators said that since last September Syria had granted virtually no exit permits to the 1,400 Jews remaining in the country despite a commitment last year to do so by President Hafez Al Assad. The senators disputed Syria's denial that there had been any change in policy and that the problem was a bureaucratic one. "Syria's failure to abide by its promised change in visa policy for its Jewish community, continued support for terrorist groups, as well as its failure to abide by the Taif agreement by withdrawing from Lebanon last September present clear obstacles to closer relations including removal from the (State Department) terrorism list," the letter said. "We urge you to press Syria to honour its commitment to allow Jews the right to travel freely," the

Syria hangs five for setting jail fire

DAMASCUS (R) - Five men convicted of burning down a jail and killing 57 inmates were publicly hanged in the northeastern Syrian town of Al Hasakah, official dailies said Friday. The papers said three other men were sentenced to life imprisonment for their role in the March 24 fire, which was set to conceal an attempt to smuggle drugs into the jail. Police tried to extinguish the blaze, but the prisoners set another cell on fire, blocking escape routes. Five policemen were sentenced to three years in jail for dereliction of duty and accepting bribes to permit smuggling.

Israeli tank fire kilis hunter in Lebanon

TYRE, Lebanon (R) - A Lebanese hunter was killed and another wounded in South Lebanon on Friday by an Israeli tank that fired two shells at them, security sources said. They said the incident occurred on the edge of Israel's self-styled "security zone" near a hilltop position that had been attacked several times in the past by pro-Iranian guerrillas. The men, in their early 20s, were hunting birds, the sources said.

Pakistan denies receiving missiles from China

BELJING (AP) — A Senior Pakistani official Friday denied his government has received missile shipments from China that violate Beijing's pledge to adhere to an international pact limiting arms sales. U.S. intelligence agencies recently reported evidence that China is shipping M-11 missiles to Pakistan. Satellite photos taken of the Pakistani port of Karachi show that China has not stopped the shipments of the surface-to-surface missiles since they began last fall. But Akram Zaki, secretary general of Pakistan's Foreign Ministry, denied that Pakistan has any M-11 missiles or that China was providing them. "These are speculative stories and motivated allegations," Mr. Zaki told reporters at a luncheon. "Once China made commitments to honour the MTCR limits, China has strictly adhered to those commitments and any allegations to the contrary are false and unfounded." The MTCR is the missile technology control regime, an international agreement that bars the transfer of medium- and long-range missiles. China agreed to honor MTCR guidelines in the fall of 1991, during then-Secretary of State James A. Baker's visit to Beijing. It has repeatedly denied the reports of missile shipments to Pakistan. Last fall, however, U.S. intelligence determined that sales to Pakistan were under way and that China was not making any effort to hide them from the probing eyes of U.S. spy satellites.

U.S., Britain, Kuwait to hold exercise

DUBAI (R) — U.S., British and Kuwaiti forces begin a five-day naval exercise in the northern Gulf on Saturday, the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command said Friday. The exercise will also demonstrate U.S. seaborne capabilities and the continuing U.S. commitment to the security and stability of the Arabian Gulf region," the Central Command said in a statement sent to Reuters. Western powers have held several land, sea and air exercises with Gulf Arab states since the 1991 Gulf war, the statement said about 700 Americans will participate in Saturday's operation, codenamed "Eager Sentry 93-94," in to several U.S. warships and aircraft deployed aboard the carrier USS Nimitz. A detachment of the U.S. coast guard will take part in the exercise which will also involve electronic warfare, tactical helicopter control, communications and ship boarding and search exercises.

Pakistani beheaded in Riyadh

DUBAI (R) — A convicted Pakistani drug trafficker was beheaded in Saudi Arabia on Friday, the Saudi Interior Ministry said. In a statement carried by the official Saudi Press Agency, the ministry said Matheel Khan Qalzada was beheaded in the capital Riyadh. He was found guilty of trying to smuggle heroin into the kingdom.

Mild tremor rocks western Turkey

ISTANBUL (R) - A medium strength earthquake, measuring 4.3 on the Richter scale, rocked western Turkey on Friday, but caused no damage or injuries, seismologists reported. Seismologists at Istanbul's Kandili observatory and earthquake research centre said the centre of tremor, which occurred at 1200 local time (0900 GMT), was the northwestern Anatolian town of Orhanhaneli. The quake was also felt in some parts of Istanbul, eyewitnesses said.

Disney to meet Arab-Americans over 'Aladdin'

BURBANK, California (R) — The Walt Disney film studio, which earlier had rejected an Arab-American group's demand to remove allegedly racial slurs from the Oscar-winning animated film "Aladdin," said on Thursday it would meet with the organisation. The American-Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee (ADC) said in Bahrain that the film — the biggest-ever box office hit for an animated film makes slurs against Arabs that would never be accepted if directed at any other ethnic group. "I come from a land... where they cut off your ear, if they don't like your face. It's barbaric, but hey, it's home," go the opening lyrics, according to a text released by the ADC. The group wants Disney to change the film when it releases it as a videocassette Oct. 1. The company refused, saying the group had made the demand several times before. "It's Kinda like old news. We have no intentions of changing Howard Ashman's lyrics." A disney spokesman said. But the spokesman said later that the studio would meet with the group next Wednesday and no decision had been made.

Afghan rivals battle despite truce talks fighting that has killed hundreds. Ittehad-e-Islamic party.

Government jets bombed hilltop positions of the radical Hezband fired mortar shells at guerrilla foes battling for control of a hospital," her husband begged strategic road junction near the passing motorists. "My home was strategic road junction near the centre of the capital.

A Hezb-e-Islami spokesman said a delegation sent by President Burhanuddin Rabbani and Clashes on Friday were the lightest for 10 days and followed

No agreement had been rocket Thursday. reached on the laying down of weapons, he said.

The delegates arrived at 4 p.m. yesterday to talk about a ceasefire but so far the development has not taken place," said Hezb-e-Islami spokesman Khalid estimate, because most are at the fortified headquarters of the group at Charasyab, about 20 kilometres south of Kabul.

Moments after he spoke a government jet flying from a base north of the capital bombed a cluster of Hezb-e-Islami guard posts on a hill overlooking the guerrila stronghold. It was not known if there were any casualties. Mr. Rabbani and his arch-rival Hekmatyar, who heads the Hezbe-Islami, reached agreement on the cabinet Thursday after nearly 20 days of wrangling in Jalalabad over positions and division of

They prayed to God to guarantee peace and announced 21 guerrilla-controlled territory. ministries in a cabinet divided among the nine main guerrilla groups.

Rockets fired by rival guerrilla factions slammed into several parts of the capital Friday. One injured woman sat moan- April 1992.

KABUL (R) - Afghan guerrilla ing by a roadside in the Hezbfactions fought sporadic battles controlled suburb of Darulaman with government forces in Kabul after her house was demolished Friday, just 24 hours after rival by rocket fire from proleaders called for a ceasefire to government batteries of the end 10 days of fratricidal street Saudi-backed Sunni Muslim Middle-aged Najiba Pashtun was bleeding from wounds in her e-Islami party south of the city head and thigh.

and fired mortar shells at guerril"She is suffering. Take her to destroyed. We are so tired of the Prime Minister-designate Gul- intense rocket and mortar attacks buddin Hekmatyar to impose a the day before. Four mounds ceasefire had arrived in Kabul near the Defence Ministry from the eastern city of Jalalabad marked the hastily dug graves of four pedestrians blown apart by a

The International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) said the capital's hospitals had treated 4,500 injured since the fighting crupted.

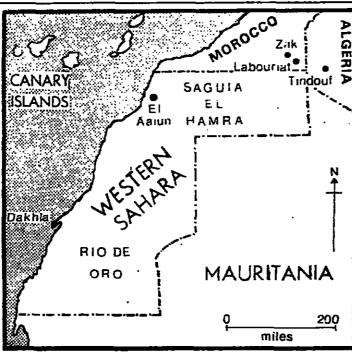

The death toll was difficult to buried immediately, but was believed to be more than 1.000.

At the strategic Demazang road junction, scene of the bitterest fighting over the past 10 days, the body of a Hezb-e-Wahdat fighter lay on an Islamic green flag in the ruins of a house where he had been shot by government forces.

Hezb-e-Wahdat, allies of Mr. Hekmatyar's Hezb-e-Islami, have been fighting for several days over the junction that controls access to the city from the west and southwest.

"These people are madmen," said a government commander as his forces fired mortar into

More than a third of Kabul's 1.5 million residents have fled and thousands of people have been killed in battles since the Mujahedeen took power from the fallen communist government in

Polisario near's crossroad 20 years after camel raid

ern Sahara 20 years ago started a war that may not be over yet.

The Polisario Front, which marks the anniversary of its attack on Al Khanga Thursday, is nearing a crossroad between peace or resumed conflict with Могоссо.

Although a ceasefire has held since September 1991, a promised referendum to let the people of the former Spanish colony choose between independence or integration with Morocco, has been blocked in a row over who can vote.

The United Nations, trying to implement a five-year-old peace plan, is losing patience and Polisario leaders increasingly warn that they are ready to fight on if the peace plan fails.

"Our army is still in place. If it can fight against Morocco for 17 years," it can go on for more years," Cheikh Doua, first counsellor at the Polisario embassy in Algiers, told Reuters.

There is always the will to continue the war but we prefer a political solution." Spain's last soldiers left in February 1976 under pressure from Morocco, which sent 350,000 citizens across the fronvious year. But while Spain ceded the territory to Morocco and Mauritania, Polisario's guerrillas proclaimed independence as the Saharan Arab Democratic Republic or (SADR).

tier in a "green march" the pre-

"When the Moroccans came, only the enemy changed. The war continued," said Mr. Doua.

Mauritania made peace with the front and in 1984 joined other, mainly Third World, nations in recognising the SADR. "We have made great progress, from a handful of badly-armed men on camels to recognition by 74 countries and an army still TINDOUF, Algeria (R) — A few ready to fight after years battling guerrillas on camels who raided a the Moroccans," said another Spanish military post in the West-Polisario official in Algiers. Western Sahara, a stretch of Northwest African coast opposite the Canary Islands, has been described as "a God-forsaken, scorching desert tract half the size of France with little water and less people."

But hundreds have died in the conflict and tens of thousands displaced to refugee camps in neighbouring countries.

U.N. refugee officials estimate there are 165,000. Saharans around Polisario's main centre at Tindouf in southwest Algeria, of which it classes 80,000 as "vulnerable" — the young, the old, the pregnant and the sick.

Polisario, led by Mohammad Abdul Aziz, saw its army evolve over the years from camel-riding raiders to units equipped with Soviet-made T-54 tanks, BMP-1 armoured personnel carriers and

The London-based International Institute of Strategic Studies estimates its force at 10,000 men, with perhaps 4,000 active. Rabat, which at times commited up to 100,000 troops to the costly conflict, controls some four-fifths of the territory. Its army guards towns and phospate mines, the main economic asset, behind more than 1,600 kilometres of sand and rock ridges running from Zag in the north towards Zug in the south and then along the Mauritanian frontier to the Atlantic. .

Secretary-General Boutros Ghali is due in the region soon to try to revive the peace plan, and the official responsible for voter identification, Erik Jensen, visited Morocco this month.

Both sides agree on voting rights for a basic 74,000 names in a 1974 Spanish census, but Polisario accuses Rabat of trying to rig the vote by bringing in thousands of settlers.

The second of the transfer of the second of sent soldiers get their machinegun ready for attack near a frontline in the ongoing battles in Kabul (AFP photo)

Mideast arms talks inch ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israelis long way off.
and Arabs completed three days "Arms control isn't a goal, of arms control talks Thursday, peace is," said one Israeli official. agreeing on a variety of measures to build up trust among the enemies of the Middle East.

The Mideast arms control talks, part of the Arab-Israeli peace talks, were convened for their fourth session with some 40 countries and international organisations in attendance --- including Israel, Jordan, Egypt, Saudi Arabia, the Gulf states, North African States, European conntries, Japan, Australia, Canada, the United States and Russia. The sides agreed that Arabs and Israelis will benefit from the experience of the countries outside the region on such issues as how to set up conflict prevention centres, to establish so-called hotlines between their capitals, to exchange information on military manoeuvres, and to conduct joint search and rescue operations.

Countries such as the Netherlands and Turkey have volunteered to organise workshops for Arabs and Israelis in the coming months on some of these issues, Israeli officials said. Denmark has invited the Arabs and Israelis to observe NATO manoeuvres in July, they added.

But the officials, speaking on condition of anonymity, made clear that steps to actually slash the Soviets. Arab and Israeli arsenals are a

Iraqi Kurdish

Turkish lire

request to use

ANKARA (AP) — Turkey Friday left the door open to a plan by Iraqi Kurds to substitute Turkish currency for Iraqi Turkish.

Iraqi Kurds asked Turkey's help last week to substitute Turkish liras for the worthless Iraqi currency in northern Iraq, where they have set up a de facto state.

Baghdad recently abolished the pre-Gulf war 25-dinar bills widely used by the Iraqi Kurds and took measures to prevent their conver-

Iraq said the change was necessary because of attempts by Gulf states to destabilise the Iraqi economy by introducing the pre-war

"We have no intention of interfering in the domestic affairs of Iraq," said a Foreign Ministry spokesman, Volkan Vural, at a news briefing.

"It is every sovereign country's right to abolish its money. But, we want to see the matter solved

He said "every aspect of the issue was under study" before a decision was made on how to respond to the Kurdish request.

It was unclear where the Kurds would obtain lire. The currency could come in the place of material aid from Turkey, or be withdrawn directly from Turkish with good intention."

dinars into Iraq.

sion into other denominations.

'It can assist peace, but you have to raise the level of mutual confidence before you can get into discussion of arsenals," he added. The State Department, mean-, while, said the talks produced "positive results." Australia, Canada and Japan all made presentations on ways to enhance regional security and limit weapons deliveries, the department said in a statement. Israel has managed to fend off initial Arab demands that a first agenda item should be discussion of Israel's nuclear facilities. Israel is widely believed to have dozens of nuclear warheads, although it has never officially confirmed these reports.

But although Arab countries still want Israel to open up its suspected nuclear facilities and sign the international nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty, they have agreed to concentrate for now on confidence building measures, said a U.S. official who asked not to be named.

The United States is largely. credited with steering the talks towards confidence measures, building on some 20 years of its experience in arms control with Israel is the only power in the fugees.

Middle East believed to have nuclear weapons. But Israel, Egypt and Syria are known to have chemical and biological weapons programmes. Syria and Lebanon are boycotting the talks pending progress in their direct peace talks with Israel, where they are demanding that the Israelis give up land for peace.

For the first time since the arms talks began in January 1992, a Palestinian delegation also took

The purpose of the working group "is to identify practical next steps, possible confidencebuilding measures which the parties to this conference can explore, try to intensify the pace of their work and expand the scope of contacts within the group," State Department spokesman Richard Boucher explaind.

The ninth round of direct Arab-Israeli peace talks adjourned Thursday after three weeks of negotiations in Washington. Those talks involve Israel, Syria, Lebanon, Jordan and the Palestinians. Neither the Syrians nor the Lebanese are attending the multilateral working group session, in keeping with their past practice. They have also boycotted the other multilateral working groups which deal with economic development, water, the environment and re-

Ankara reviews | Peres: China promises no

PEKING (Agencies) - China tionship with China. has promised it will sell no more missiles to warring Middle East- Chinese position in the United ern countries, Israeli Foreign Nations on voting... will express Minister Shimon Peres said here the new position of China vis-a-

"The (Chinese) foreign minister told me two things: "That Middle East peace process and that Deking would be one of the missiles to the Middle Eastern countries which are at war, and (that) China will be very careful not to supply weapons that may asserted that China, which sold the 1980s, intended to sell missiles to Syria. Mr. Peres is here on a six-day visit, the first to China by an Israeli foreign minister since the two countries established diplomatic relations in January

"China is really developing a "Policy of peace and responsibila a maity," said Mr. Peres, who na," appeared clearly satisfied with the results of his trip so far. Mr. Peres said that Qian Qichen, China's foreign minister and vice-premier, had emphasised that there would be no missile sales to Syria in particular. "(Qian) was clear and specific about it," he said. "China will not sell any missiles to Syria in the pleasure at Israel's new rela-missile sales to Mideast

"We anticipate that the Friday, congratulating Peking for vis peace in the Middle East," what he called an elightened poli-

He said that China's words China does not intend to sell that Peking would be one of the world's key bridging countries, belping to create the climate for Mr. Peres drew a distinction endanger the security of our between China's past as a staunch country," Mr. Peres said.

Some Western countries have present as an important friend to present as an important friend to both sides. He said much of the its Silkworm missiles to Iran in change was due to the new world situation, after the collapse of the former Soviet Union. "The nations didn't change but the world changed," he said. Mr. Peres would not be drawn on Israeli arms sales to China, which diplomats believe are taking place.

We do not consider ourselves a major supplier of arms to China," Mr. Peres said. "I didn't come here to sell arms and I wasn't asked to do so." He said he was pleased that China had offered to host a multilateral meeting as part of the Middle East peace process. That meeting, on water use, will take place in September.

Mr. Peres arrived in Peking Wednesday night. He will travel to Shanghai, China's largest city, Mr. Peres clearly showed his Saturday and leave China Mon-

Israel allows Palestinians to pray at Aqsa

(Continued from page 1) from the West Bank town of Tulkarem.

The president of the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) is in Israel for talks expected to focus on the worsening conditions in the occupied territories, officials said Friday.

An Israeli spokeswoman said Comelio Sommaruga was to meet Justice Minister David Libai Friday and Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin Sunday. He planned to see Palestinian leaders Friday and Saturday.

"It is a regular visit. We do have good working relations with the Red Cross and we cooperate with their work," the spokes-

Abronoth said Ms. Somarruga's visit was prompted by the closure of the occupied territories.

U.N. Secretary-General Boutros Ghali deplored Thursday a substantial increase in violence in the occupied territories in recent lence and appeals to all sides for weeks and appealed to all sides to exercise restraint.

In a statement issued through a spokesman, he also expressed concern at a sharp deterioration of the economic situation in the West Bank and Gaza Strip resulting from the Israeli closure of the territories and urged the international community to provide greater economic aid.

"The secretary-general is deep-ly concerned at the substantial

The Israeli daily Yedioth increase in violent incidents during recent weeks in which a number of Palestinians and Israelis were killed and wounded in the occupied territories," the U.N. spokesman said. "He deplores these acts of vio-restraint and to avoid steps which will aggravate the situation." Appealing to the internatingal community for greater economic assistance to the occupied territories, the secretary-general also reminded major donor countries of the critical financial situation of the U.N. Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees (UNRWA), which faced a budget deficit of $28.5 million earlier this

Britain's Queen Mother undergoes throat operation

LONDON (R) - The elderly Queen Elizabeth, the Queen Mother, was recovering Friday after an hour-long operation to remove an obstruction from her throat, causing concern for her health amongst Britons The 92year-old widow of King George VI, one of the royal family's most popular members, had been staying in Scotland near the royal Balmoral Castle when she was rushed to Aberdeen hospital Thursday evening with a tighten-ing of the throat. "Her Majesty's condition is comfortable, and she is presently sleeping," Alan Reid, a spokesman for the hospital aid Friday. "Her Majesty will remain in the Aberdeen Royal Intirmary under observation." A spokes-woman for Buckingham Palace would not be drawn on the nature of Thursday's operation, which was conducted under anaestheue, but she said: "It was minor and definitely not life-threatening." Asked if the Queen Mother's age posed any difficulties, Mr. Reid, without divulging the nature of the surgery, said an operation was always "dangerous for a person of that age." Hospital sources said there would be further tests on the Queen Mother Frulay.

Staff of White House travel office fired

WASHINGTON (AP) - The entire staff of the White House travel office was abruptly fired and the FBI was asked to investigate allegations of "shoddy accounting procedures" and 'gross mismanagement." In all, seven workers, all of them on the White House payrell for at least 10 years, were fired and asked to leave by the end of the day. A distant cousin of President Bill Clinton, Catherine Cornelius, was appointed to temporarily run the office following the dismissals. The office coordinates commercial travel for White House staffers and charters planes for the White House press corps that accompany the president. White House Press Secretary Dee Dee Mvers said the administration called in the Peat Marwick accounting firm after an initial, routine review found "almost no docunentation of money that was coming in and going out and the records that were there were found to be inadequate." She said the FBI has been contacted, and an agency inquiry was likely given the kinds of information and the amount of money in-volved." "We believe that all seven individuals were part of the poor management situation," she said, adding initial results showed some serious overbilling of the press." Ms. Myers said the office's shortcomings came to light as part of Vice President Al Gore's government-wide efficien-

U.S. drugs shipped abroad without warning labels

WASHINGTON (R) — Multinational drug companies including U.S.-based pharmaceutical houses shipped prescription drugs lacking proper warning labels to developing countries, a U.S. government agency said Thursday. A seven-year investigation of labels on drugs in Brazil, Kenya, Panama and Thailand found two-thirds of the 241 sampled failed to provide the labelling a physician needs to use the drugs safely and effectively. Senator Edward Kennedy said in releasing the report by the Office of Technology Assessment (OTA) that he is asking the government to act on the abuses. "The United States has an obligation to ensure that citizens of other countries are not harmed by inadequate or mis-leading labels on American pro-ducts," he said. The drug labels investigated were manufactured by 19 companies. The OTA, a non-partisan scientific research arm of Congress, found that in other countries Pfizer Inc.'s Feldane, an arthritis drug, was promoted for general pain relief while it is restricted to treatment of arthritis in the United States. It also did not mention the risk of liver damage.

Allende's family fights to recover artworks

SANTIAGO (R) - The widow and daughters of President Salvador Allende, ousted in Chile's 1973 coup, are fighting to recover artworks they say were taken when their homes were ransacked after the military seized power. Family lawyers said Thursday they had filed court papers seeking the return of more than 300 objects, mainly paintings and antique furniture, seized from Mr. Allende's homes.